New engine to expand Upland Department's fire protection arm

Upland Fire Department's new $26,000 White-top fire engine was delivered last week to strengthen this city's protection program.

It is a 1000 gallon Seagraves pumper on a Ford C-1000 chassy.

In the picture at right Chief Leon Lamphear with the help of accomodating firemen tacks on the official department insignia, while below the group poses with Barney Eberhady, delivering service engineer, and Harold Terry, city purchasing agent, who officially received the equipment.

The new equipment will expand our fire protection program, " Chief Lamphear said. "It will probably be used in the new fire station out on North San Antonio Avenue."

Bite to be set in September meet

By Jack Harper

Upland Council Tuesday night adopted an official resolution setting $883,031 as the amount of money needed to be raised in local property taxes to run the city during the 1967-68 fiscal year.

The tax rate, however, will not be officially established until September.

The revenue from taxes on property within the city limits will be augmented by other city income to make up the $2,530,612 budget adopted in June. That budget featured a 6.83 per cent overall wage increase for city employees, the biggest hike being given to the police department in line with the national trend to upgrade law enforcement.

* * *

Broken down, the resolution passed Tuesday calls for local taxes to be raised for the various departments as follows:

General fund -- $445,219.

Park and recreation -- $220,337.

Library fund -- $102,476.

Capital outlay fund -- $33,477.

And employees retirement fund -- $81,522.

After setting the local revenue needed and in anticipation of the tax bite to be passed in September, Councilmen Tuesday night authorized a campaign to pressure the legislature to change its method of distributing state sales taxes.

"Cities such as Upland need a fairer distribution of the retail sales taxes," Mayor James L. Christensen said.

"Presently we get a share of the retail sales tax collected within the city, but we are a residential community and our people do a lot of shopping in the surrounding trade areas."

The mayor called for distribution of sales taxes on a population basis.

The idea was backed by the entire council.

"It makes a lopsided tax picture," Councilman George Gibson said. "Communities with huge trade centers receive an excessive amount of retail sales taxes while residential communities such as Upland are required to offer more services to its people, but do not enjoy the tax from the money they spend."

City Manager Elwin Alder pointed out there was a growing "bind" on all residential communities.

PEE WEE ANCHORETTE -- Susan Long (in the lead), the 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Long, 1290 W. 11th St., Upland, leads the junior corp to victory at the Helldadora Days Field Competition in Las Vegas. Susan joined the Anchorettes in 1966, was made Pee Wee leader, and has now moved up to the junior corp. When Susan isn't marching with the Anchorettes she is busy working on her solo twirling in which she has won 12 trophies and 4 medals.

Center delay is 'poor decision'

Mayor James L. Christensen Tuesday night described the decision to hold off initial construction of the downtown center until after Christmas as a poor one.

"I have heard much comment from downtown merchants themselves," Christensen said, "who think construction activity would give them a spurt in sales."

He pointed out it was a matter of psychology.

"People like to be caught up in progress," he commented. "Pomona businesses in the mall they built enjoyed brisk business during the construction."

Councilman Zella Stone reported there were good reasons presented by the engineers for delaying start of construction.

"We don't have too many downtown merchants at our revitalization committee meetings," she said, "but the ones there felt it would be better to wait until after Christmas."

Upland's core area is to be revamped into a modern walking and parking shopping district under a tax assessment program sponsored by property owners.

The council Tuesday turned down a request by Edison Company for permission to install steel light poles across Memorial Park to Arrow Highway in order to serve customers in that area.

Councilman Ronald L. Rossitter led the opposition to the request on the grounds it would be an eyesore and that an alternature route was possible.

Rossitter suggested the lines be put underground. City Manager Alder said that immediately increased the costs considerably.

A letter was authorized to the company requesting they consider an alternate route other than through Memorial Park.

Councilman Stone announced there was now a fine "drag strip" between 16th and 19th Street on Campus Avenue where a new street has been installed.

"The extension of Campus has been officially opened," she said, "and all our citizens can be proud of it."

* * *

A public hearing was set for the September 5 meeting in city hall to give residents living in the area a chance to express themselves on a use permit for a family type billiard parlor at the Northeast corner of Third Street and Arrow Highway.

Ralph Russell and Estes Morris appeared before the council to make the request. They plan also to operate a barber shop on the premises.

Mayor has new job

Mayor James L. Christensen revealed Tuesday night that he has accepted a new position as public relations and customer serviceman for the Pomona Ready Mix Associated Rock Products Company.

"I am delighted with it," he said. "I enjoy working with people and that is what the job primarily entails."

The mayor said there is a strong possibility he would go out of the service station business. He operates a Texaco station on Foothill Boulevard.

He began work August 1 with the Rock Products Company.

Meeting

A general district election will take place on November 7 to elect three members to the Cucamonga County Water District Board of Directors.

The election comes as a result of the terms of Galer Royer, Harold B. Blatz and Eugene Billings expiring this year. Billings has served this year as president of the board.

Foothill 'death trap' claims another traffic victim

The fateful S curve on Foothill Boulevard between Baker and Carnelian Streets in Cucamonga claimed another life Monday.

Mrs. Dorothy T. Ryan, mother of two, 824 Nocta St., Ontario, was killed when she lost control of the 1964 Valiant she was driving, Westbound, crossed the center line and collided with an eastbound 1962 Ford Stationwagon driven by Mrs. Pauline Rugg, 61, of 9340 Foothill Boulevard, Cucamonga.

Mrs. Ryan was dead on arrival at San Antonio Community Hospital. Mrs. Rugg was reported in fair condition at Kaiser Foundation Hospital where she was transferred from the Upland hospital.

The fatal accident Monday about 3:15 p.m. was similar to an early morning collision on the same curve in April which claimed seven lives.

It brought the total highway dead in San bernardino county this year to 182.

The San Bernardino Highway Patrol office reported yesterday no charges were made in the case. Officers estimated Mrs. Ryan was traveling between 50 and 60 mph and that Mrs. Rugg was making between 40 to 50 mph.

The Ryan automobile swerved sideways and was hit in the midsection head-on by the oncoming station wagon driven by Mrs. Rugg.

The victim is survived by her husband, William, a son, Michael 9, and a daughter, Christine 2.

The body was taken to the Draper Mortuary, Ontario.

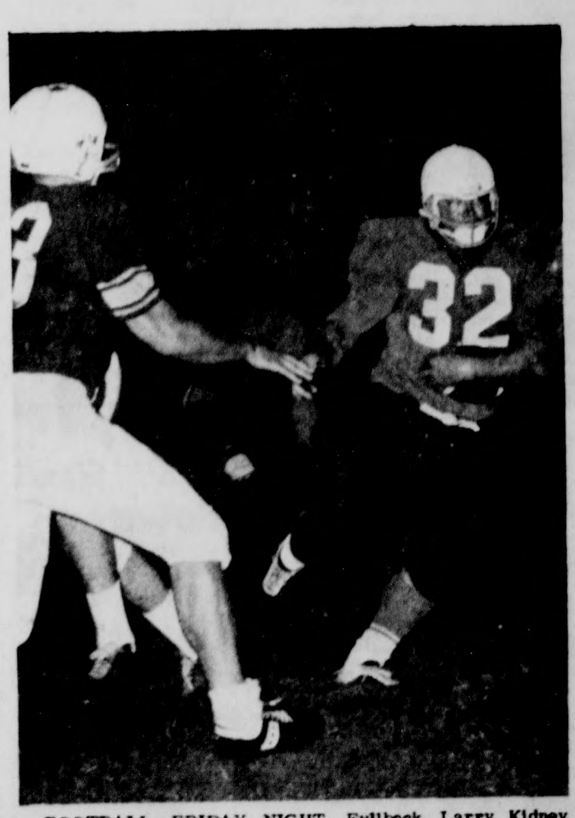

Investigating from the Pomona Highway Patrol office were officers George Smith and Nelson Brown.

The April accident which claimed seven lives, including three from Upland and one from Cucamonga, occurred on the same S curve near Baker Street on Foothill.

In that crash the driver of one car lost control, it swerved across the center line and was hit in the midsection headon by the other oncoming auto.

TRAGIC SCENE -- Bearing a marked similarity to the smashed autos which claimed seven lives in April on the same stretch of highway, the 1964 Valiant, driven by Mrs. Dorothy T. Ryan who was killed, is shown at left on Foothill Boulevard near Baker Street Monday. At the right is the 1962 Ford Station Wagon driven by Mrs. Pauline Rugg, of Cucamonga. The two accidents occurred within 50 feet of each other.

FOOTBALL FRIDAY NIGHT--Fullback Larry Kidney rips off tackle for yardage in a scrimmage session of the Pomona Valley Bulldogs in preparation for the Upland Boys Club benefit game to be held this Friday night at Chaffey High School Stadium in Ontario. They'll meet the San Diego Tornadoes. Coach Charlie Toole, of Upland, was singing the blues at the Upland Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday, but that is just a sign he has a hot professional team this year. Alta Loma-Cucamonga Boys Enter Projects In LA Fair

The Alta Loma and Cucamonga area will be well represented at the Los Angeles County Fair in the Junior Fair competition this year.

Fair officials have announced the entries of at least five young men from Cucamonga and two from Alta Loma in the arts and crafts, pigeon and model car competitions.

ERIC SMITH

Eric Smith, 14, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin G. Smith, 7234 Hellman Avenue, Alta Loma will be entering an ink sketch and a painting in the competition.

An excellent scholar, as well as a talented artist, Eric will be entering Damien High School in Pomona in the fall.

Trophies in his home display talents which Eric has in the fields of swimming, archery and scholastic aptitude. He is a member of the Alta Loma Swim Club, and was active in the Upland Recreation program last summer.

Eric was graduated in the top 10 from his junior high school class at St. Joseph's in Upland. He received a four year scholarship to Damien in Pomona for his outstanding achievement.

Eric says he started drawing "when I was a little kid. In the first grade we had to draw our own pictures to color."

Eric has never taken any art training, but hopes to get into some classes in summer school next year to learn some of the finer points. "I plan to become a lawyer or a dentist . . . I don't plan to go into art as a career unless I improve a lot, but then it will have to be an awful lot."

Eric has two brothers and two sisters in his family. Carol is 12, Clay 9, Neil 6, and Stacie 4.

MICHAEL CASTELLINI

Michael Castellini, 14, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Castinellia of 8705 9th Street, Cucamonga, will be entering one of his model cars in the modern stock automobile competition at the Los Angeles County Fair.

This is the second year that Michael has entered the competition, having won first place in the station wagon competition last year.

The judging in the model contest is based on workmanship, appearance, and originality.

Michael has been building model cars and ships for the past five years and also has a hobby of stamp collecting.

He will be entering his freshman year at Damien High School in Pomona. He graduated valedictorian of his junior high school class at St. Joseph's in Upland.

Michael has two married sisters, Margaret in Ontario, and Gail in Montclair.

GARY WALLACE

Gary Wallace, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Wallace of 7368 Archibald Avenue, Cucamonga has entered the junior division of the model building competition. He will submit to the Junior Fair, a motorcycle, 1940 Ford, and a model towtruck.

Gary, according to his mother, eats, sleeps and lives baseball. He was a member of the Cardinals Little League team this summer. "I'm glad I made it into the paper for something," Gary said, "as our baseball team didn't do very well this year."

Gary will enter Alta Loma Junior High School this fall and his hopes for the future include becoming an architect.

DALE WALLACE

Dale Wallace, 16, is Gary's older brother. He is going to enter his junior year at Alta Loma High School this fall, where he will be the photographer for the yearbook staff. This will be Dale's second year in the model building competition at the Los Angeles Junior Fair. Last year he entered and won first place with one of his pickup trucks.

This year, Dale has entered a Mustang, 1934 Ford, a pickup and a 1967 Stingray in the senior division of the competition.

It is obvious when checking Dale's models, that originality plays a big part in the competition. His models are more than the manufacturer had intended them to be when they were first stamped out. For instance, Dale used pieces of thread and coated wire to simulate the wiring and tubing of the engines in two of his cars. He lined the bed of his pickup truck with white cloth to simulate a carpeted effect and otherwise used his imagination to create some unusual effects on his models.

As his mother said, " I have found him out in back with the hood up on the family car many times in the past several weeks. I finally asked him what he was doing and he told me that it was very important that he see how the wiring was done on a real car."

Dale aspires to become a veterinarian for his life time career. He won a scholarship in junior high school for being top of his class during the two years he was there. He plans to attend Chaffey College for at least one year after his graudation from high school.

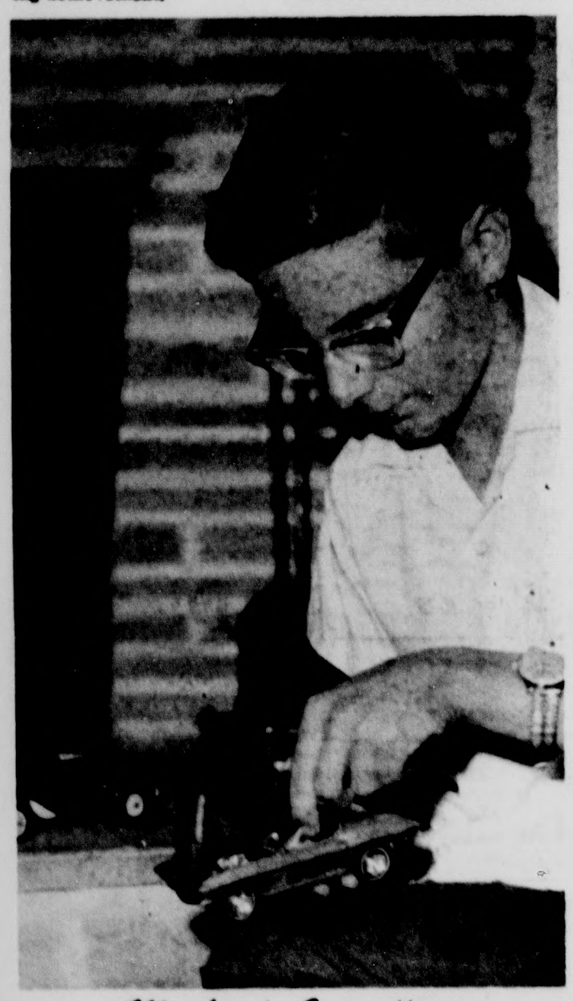

Some of the other boys who have made entries in the fair are John Davis 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Paul Davis of 9388 19th Street, Alta Loma, who will compete in the arts and crafts competition with his model cars and hand sketches; Robert and John Byzewski, of 7419 Via Salsipuedes, Cucamonga, who have entered their pigeons in competition.

The Junior Fair itself is a special division competition for youngsters ages 6-19. Special class competition is open to college agriculture students, and members of 4-H, Future Farmers of America and Future Homemakers of America.

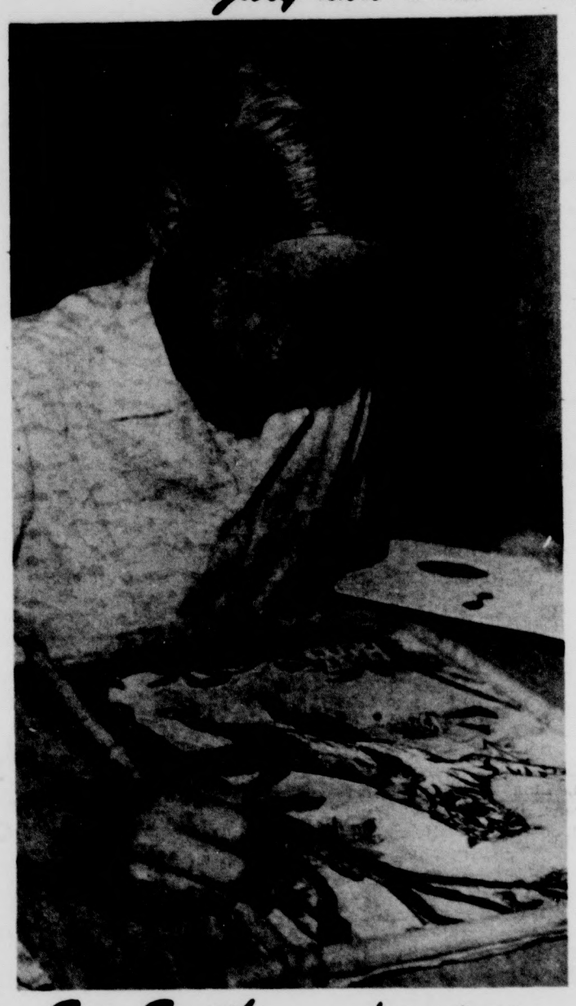

The largest county fair in the nation, the Pomona exposition begins its 17-day run at the Pomona Fairgrounds September 15.

County Tax Budget Set

The Board of Supervisors, after four weeks of concentrated budget study and revisions, concluded the review of the 1967-68 budget for the County of San Bernardino, with a dramatic further reduction of 8 1/2¢ in tax requirements for property owners of San Bernardino County, when they added an additional $1,095,000.00 in anticipated revenue to the budget. Although the final property tax is not yet known. Board Members are certain that it's increase over last year's $2.11 will not exceed 10¢.

Chairman Daniel D. Mikesell stated that "this completed what was perhaps the most intensive budget review ever experienced by the Board Members in this County and as a result of the efforts of the Board Members, it was possible for the budget to be drastically reduced with a resulting savings to property tax payers of at least 45¢ originally anticipated as a tax rate increase."

Mikesell continued by stating that the "budget effort was characterized by a spirit of excellent cooperation and a constant attempt on the part of the Administrative Staff, Department Heads and others to provide the most economical spending program, consistent with the continued provision of good public service for the citizens of the County."

The County budget, which will be something less than $100,000.000.00 represents an increase of about 7% in proposed spending, most of which is related to increased case loads in the Welfare Department, hospital services by the County General Hospital, and Law protection costs of the Sheriff's Office as well as County departments serving segments of the population requiring assistance by the Health Department, Probation Department, and the Courts.

Although Department Heads had originally requested 331 positions, and these requests had been cut to 207 in the proposed budget recommendations of the Administrative Officer, the Board Members slashed new employees to 75 positions-one of the lowest total number recommended and approved in recent years.

In a meeting of the Board of Supervisors and Department Heads, immediately after adoption of the budget, the Board Members requested Department Heads to continue their operations as they have during the present fiscal year, maintaining services at the current level and further instructing them not to expand their activities nor to establish new programs so that costs can be kept as low as possible. The Department Heads have indicated that they will attempt in every way possible to follow the leadership of the Board in continuing their departmental functions and that only a matter of increased work load or mandatory legislation from the State Level would require changes during the fiscal year.

During the next three weeks the Administrative Office and Auditor-Controller's office will be coordinating the compilation of final budget details so that a total budget figure, along with the amount required to be raised by property taxes can be submitted to the Board for their consideration prior to September 1st in order that the Board of Supervisors may set the tax rate at that time.

Vintners To Have Booth At LA Fair

The Cucamonga Growers and Vintners Association will have a booth at the Los Angeles Fair in Pomona this year, according to Tip Browne, secretary of the association.

Browne said that the association will sponsor several events on "Cucamonga Day," which has been designated as the first Thursday after the opening of the fair. Browne said the events would include a traditional grape-stomping contest and a weighing contest in which the winner will receive his weight in champagne.

Also, the 10th thoroughbred horse race of the day at the fair will be sponsored by the association and the Cucamonga District Chamber of Commerce. Post time will be 5:16 p.m. and a trophy donated by the Chamber of Commerce will be presented to the winner.

Browne also gave a schedule of events to be held by the association prior to the events at the fair.

October is National Wine Month, and the Cucamonga district will sponsor a wine and grape festival at Regina Winery September 2 - 4 to start the celebration early. Browne said that several events for the festival are in the planning stage now.

Cucamonga SD Budget

The Cucamonga School Board of Trustees met last week to approve the district's proposed budget for the 1967-68 fiscal year.

According to board president, Paul Makabe, there were a few changes made in the budget, however, they were of a minor nature.

The budget called for an expected income for the coming year of approximately $661,776, with an estimated expenditure for the year of $604,851.

Makabe said that the taxpayers will probably have their school tax lowered in the district this coming year, the final determination of how much, he said, depends on the action of the state legislature.

In other business before the baord last week, it was decided that the district would open bids on Friday at 4:30 p.m. for the construction of two relocatable structures which the district intends to build. As presently proposed, one of the buildings will be located on the Cucamonga School site and will be used to house the Head Start program presently in progress in the school district. The second building will be built at the Los Amigos School site and will be used as additional classroom space.

The board also discussed the possibility of using the district's land particularly at the Cucamonga School site, to build a baseball field for use as a recreational facility for the community.

Do something drastic while driving, warns the National Automobile Club, and you can be doing something fatal.

UC Plans Class In Cucamonga

The University of California, Riverside, lists among its extention programs being offered for the coming year, a speech problems course to be given at the Los Amigos School in Cucamonga.

The course entitled, "Speech Problems: Diagnosis and Remediation in Elementary Schools" is a comprehensive study of speech and language development in children. Also to be discussed will be the social and educational aspects of communication disorders.

The course, under the direction of Eugene A. Fahlbush, M.A., coordinator of speech and hearing services for the San Bernardino County Schools, will comprise 13 meetings on Tuesday evenings from 7-10 p.m. The course will start on September 19 and will run through December 12 at the Los Amigos School.

In other UC courses to be taught in the area, a class entitled "Teaching Lifetime Sports" will be offered at the Alta Loma High School. The course is made up of a series of clinics to train teachers to instruct other physical education personnel in archery, badminton, bowling, golf, and tennis, and to present methods of effectively teaching large groups lifetime sports activities through the use of innovations, gimmicks, and modified equipment.

The class will be conducted on Saturdays from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. from October 7 through December 9, under the direction of Albert D. Colebank, consultant in health and physical education for the Ontario School District.

For more information on these and other courses under the University of California extension program, interested persons should write the University of California Extension, Riverside, or call 787-4105.

McCambridge; Corey Star At Carousel

Producers Sammy Lewis and Danny Dare have announced the signing of Mercedes McCambridge and Wendell Corey for the stellar roles in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?," opening a two week engagement at the Carousel Theatre on Tuesday, September 5.

Miss McCambridge, a former Academy Award winner, won critical acclaim for her portrayal of the alcoholic wife in the original Broadway production of the Edward Albee hit, but has never been seen in the role in Southern California.

Wendell Corey was seen in a previous production of "Virginia Woolf" at Melodyland Theatre where he received high praise for his delineation of the college professor.

Tickets for the two week engagement of "Who's Afraid Of Virginia Woolf?," which marks the reopening of the West Covina showhouse after a summer hiatus, are now on sale by mail order only.

DELICIOUS FRUIT

Delicious apples and pears, according to the National Automobile Club, grow at Medford, Oregon.

House Market On Upswing

A "pretty healthy" housing market is developing in the area, according to a spot survey of 106 tracts from Cucamonga to Diamond Bar.

The survey, conducted twice a year by the Residential Research Commission of Southern California, shows that housing now is almost in balance with demand, and that if the trend continued by the end of the year there may be fewer than 400 vacant new houses in the area which serves a population of nearly 350,000.

There are no estimates as to the number of old houses which are vacant, but the trend shows a decrease in volume there also, based on the number of turn-ons and turn-offs by utility companies.

The reduction in new occupied homes comes despite a turnabout in the construction industry which shows that five times as many homes were built during the first six months of this year than the last six months of 1966.

According to the report, on June 30 there were 823 vacant new dwellings in the areas composed of Cucamonga, Pomona, Ontario, Montclair, La Verne, San Dimas, Upland, Chino, Claremont, and Diamond Bar. This compares with 1,144 in December 1966; 1,735 in June 1966; 2,325 in December 1965; 3,324 in December 1964, and 3,610 in December 1963, the peak of overbuilt condition.

As for construction of new homes, the decline stopped during the past six months, when 267 houses were placed on the market, compared with 43 last December and an average of 2,500 new homes have been built in the Pomona Valley during the past five years.

One-third of the 823 vacant new homes is described by the survey as the hard-to-move type which are likely to remain unsold for some time, particularly with cleanup bargains offered on older tracts, and the start of new homes.

Lending officials say one reason why the construction industry has not made a more spectacular recovery is because local financial institutions are insisting that the builders clean up their present inventories of vacant homes before they apply for new commitments.

They point out that although this policy tends to slow the growth of the industry, it also acts as a brake for any possible runaway attempt, thus making the economy here more healthy in the long run.

Pettis Explains New Job Program

Many Cucamonga and area residents will be affected by a plan designed to qualify some 2,600 Mexican-Americans for jobs in manufacturing, service, and agricultural industries, according to Congressman Jerry Pettis.

Including six programs, the plan assigns $2,672,786 for on-the-job training which will run for one year. According to Pettis, participants from San Bernardino County will be included in the project which will focus its attention on Mexican - Americans who are either unemployed or under-employed.

"The Foundation will," said Pettis, "locate job-training slots for 1,375 individuals in this area, 135 of which may be monolingual."

The Congressman from San Bernardino County reported that $867,520 is for the area including San Bernardino. He stated that $550,000 of this amount will go to sub-contractors for reimbursable training costs. $189,000 will be for supplemental instruction and $128,520 for training allowances.

"This program," said Pettis, "gives real opportunity to men who wish to learn trades in which there are acute labor shortages. Those wishing to learn more about on-the-job training opportunities may contact my San Bernardino Office."

Dawn Shipway is wed

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip W. Knoll

The First Presbyterian Church of Upland echoed the marriage vows on August 5 of Claudia Dawn Shipway and Phillip W. Knoll. The Rev. C. Richard Mitchell performed the rites before 150 guests.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Shipway, 1327 Toledo Way, Upland, wore an ivory gown of silk taffeta with a chantilly lace bodice. Inserts and panels in the skirt and train were of the same lace.

The silk illusion veil was held by a lace and pearl rose.

Carrying white orchids and white roses with stephanotis, the bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glendale Knoll, 1130 Bush Ave., St. Paul, Minn.

Honor attendant for the occasion was Mrs. Larry Martin of Ontario. She was clothed in a Nile green gown of embossed peau-de-soie and carried red roses and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids included the groom's sister, Janis; the bride's sister, Karen; and Laurie George, cousin of the bride from Sierra Madre.

These attendants wore light blue embossed peau-de-soie gowns and also carried bouquets of red roses and baby's breath.

Candle-lighters for the ceremony were Cynthia Embree of Morgan Hill, and Bonnie George, Sierra Madre, both cousins of the bride.

Robert Booth of Sunnymead was the best man, and William Salyards, Jay Shipway, brother of the bride; Gary Tatem, Jeff Green, all of Upland, were ushers.

Attendants to the groom included Steve Imhoff, the groom's cousin of Fresno; S. B. Wheeler, Arlington; and Robert Boyd of Ontario.

Following a reception at the church, the couple left for a two-week camping trip in Minnesota. After August 18, they will reside in St. Paul, Minn.

The new Mrs. Knoll graduated in 1965 from Upland High School and was a business major at Chaffey College. She was employed at Sears in Pomona.

The groom was a 1961 graduate of Harding High in St. Paul, where he lettered in baseball, hockey, and football. He attended Riverside City College and worked for Rohr Aircraft, Riverside. He spent four years in the Navy, serving aboard the SS Oriskany CVA-34.

Juniorettes feted

Charter members of the Upland Woman's Club Juniorettes were entertained Tuesday, August 8, 1967 at a buffet luncheon at the home of Mrs. Lewis C. Stokes, 1574 Iris Way, Upland.

Twenty-four charter members of the newly formed group enjoyed their lunch on the gaily decorated patio surrounding the pool. The scene was co-ordinated with centerpieces on the eight tables representing each workshop that the girls will attend. The workshops are modeling, knitting, sewing, arts & crafts, drama, charm & make-up, social graces, and singing.

Mrs. Paul A. Roush welcomed the girls and their mothers with an informal talk of the coming events of the year. Mrs. Maurice Fehlman presented each girl with a Charter charm, a sterling silver calendar dated August 8, 1967.

Officiating at the Charter Scroll Table were Mrs. Walter L. Saccani, Mrs. Richard E. Sheridan, and Mrs. John C. Back. Historian-Treasurer, Mrs. Gordon C. Anderson assisted the girls in signing up for the various workshops.

Basic objectives of the young ladies are to promote better womanhood through friendship, community service and learning.

BPW family night picnic is held

A "family night" picnic was enjoyed by members of the Upland Business and Professional Women's Club, their husbands and families, on Thursday evening, Aug. 10th, at Upland's Memorial Park.

The program highlight of the evening, presented by Mrs. Jay Thrasher, San Orco District's Youthpower USA Chairman, was Miss Carol Locke's report of her trip to Great Falls, Montana, in June where she participated as one of the leaders in the Youthpower USA Conference sponsored by the Montana Federation BPWC.

In addition to Miss Loche's vivid description of her trip and of the Conference itself, she presented a number of color slides she had taken.

The California youths who journeyed to Montana for the conference were entertained in the various homes of the Montana Federation BPW members, and were given a trip into Glacier National Park, and an overnight stay at a Western Dude Ranch. Miss Lock was sponsored to this conference by the Upland Business and Professional Women's Club.

Guests present, in addition to the families of the members were:

Mrs. H.L. Loche; Past District President, Marilyn DeRose, of Fullerton, and her father, Mr. James DeRose; and Mrs. Orval Winters, of San Bernardino, San Orco District's 1965-66 Youthpower USA Chairman.

Mrs. Robert Conway, Club President, conducted a brief business session, during which routine business was transacted.

Upland girls enter chicken, cooking in Junior Fair

Two Upland girls will compete in Junior Fair competition at this year's Los Angeles County Fair, held at Pomona Sept. 15 through Oct. 1.

Robin Taylor, age seven, and Cheryl Addison, 19, are the local competitors.

Robin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Taylor, 1276 N. Third Ave., will enter "Sparky" in this year's contest. Who's "Sparky"? Why a chicken of course. Robin has been engaged in the poultry business since March of this year when "Sparky" hatched in a class room incubator.

A student at Chaffey College, Miss Addison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Addison, 2480 B Foreman, will display her cooking ability at the fair. She is a member of Monte Vista 4-H Club.

Junior Fair is special division competition for youngsters 6-19. Special competition is open within Junior Fair for members of 4-H, Future Farmers of America and Future Homemakers of America.

Upland man takes Montclair bride

In an evening candlelight ceremony at the Covenant Evangelical United Brethren Church in Pomona, Miss Cindy Lou Rabe and A. Dean Palmer exchanged wedding vows.

The Rev. John Duvall of Pasadena performed the rites before 325 guests. Four candelabra and a bouquet of white roses and yellow carnations adorned the altar.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gordon Rabe, 5491 Rosewood St., Montclair, was given in marriage by her father to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Louis Palmer, 2416 Park Blvd., Upland.

She wore a self-designed-and-made ivory floor length gown of crepe and lace with short bell sleeves and an empire waist. A circular train enhanced the A-line gown.

Held in place by a lace pillbox headpiece, was an ivory floor length silk illusion veil, also designed and made by the bride.

Attendants included the sister of the bride, Sylvia, as maid of honor; and Carol Bunker, Montclair; Diane Grip, Pomona; Jani Peterson, Ontario; Mrs. William Costanzo, Upland, as bridesmaids.

They wore sleeveless crepe gowns with empire waists in an A-line design. The bodices were of ivory and the skirts olive green.

The honor attendant carried a nosegay of yellow carnations and roses, with the others carrying bouquets of yellow carnations.

Ring bearer for the ceremony was Bobby Rice. Connie Good and Karen Jones, flower girls, wore floor-length nylon gowns of dotted swiss and carried baskets of yellow carnations.

Bill Palmer, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers included Rick Meyer, Cucamonga; Ted Ma Kranczy, North Hollywood; Brian Mills, Los Angeles; and Norm Benowitz, North Hollywood.

As organist, William G. Blanchard accompanied Larry Collier, vocalist, in "Jeso, Joy of Man's Desiring" and "Where E'er You Walk."

Four hundred guests attended the lawn reception at the church following the ceremony. Topped with three satin bells was a seven-tiered wedding cake.

Assisting hostesses included Mmes. Dorothy Grumbeno, Bea Schwinherd, Gene Harrod, Mary McLane, and Doris Daubert.

After a week in San Diego, the couple will reside in Los Angeles.

A 1963 graduate of Montclair High School and a 1966 graduate of Chaffey College, the new Mrs. A. Dean Palmer is a student at Cal State, Fullerton.

Artists Invited To Design 1969 Christmas Seal

Cucamonga and area artists are invited to enter the annual competition for the Christmas Seal design, according to Alvin Z. Tucker, M.D., President of the Tuberculosis and Health Association of San Bernardino County.

Dr. Tucker said the nationwide competition offers a cash award of $1,000 for the artist whose design is selected to spearhead the 1969 Christmas Seal campaign against tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases. Production schedules require the design for the seal to be selected two years in advance of publication, he explained.

The 1967 Christmas Seal was designed by Jerry Snyder of San Francisco, the first West Coast artist in six decades to win the annual contest, Dr. Tucker said. Snyder's design, a unique 10-car Christmas Seal train, will appear on millions of envelopes, parcels, posters

"We hope another California artist will win this honor," Dr. Tucker said. He urged all amateur and professional artists to contact the Tuberculosis and Health Association of San Bernardino County, 371 W. 14th Street, San Bernardino, phone TUrner 80876 for complete contest rules and information.

Fire Dept. Hires Cucamonga man

John Ells Neitz of 7555 Vineyard Avenue, Cucamonga, joined the staff of the Cucamonga Fire District as a new fireman last Saturday, according to Arvid Lewis, district chief.

Neitz, who joined the department just in time to see his first duty in the charity donkey baseball game Saturday afternoon, has been a Cucamonga resident for the past two years.

Having served two years and six months active duty in the United States Navy, he received his fire training there.

Prior to joining the district, Neitz worked for Spectrol Electronics Company in the City of Industry for the past five and one-half years. He served as foreman in the assembly department of the plant.

Neitz, 26, is married, and his wife, Lynda, works for Nally Industrial Supply in Ontario. They have no children.

Neitz states as his reasons for coming to work for the Cucamonga Fire District, an opportunity to get better acquainted with the community and an opportunity to serve it. He also feels that the additional free time he will have in working for the district will give him a chance to further his educational goals.

Neitz was born in Washington D.C. and moved to California when he went into the service. His parents are living in Alhambra.

Nineteen Upland scouts attend Circle B camp

Nineteen boy scouts of Troop 622 of Upland attended Circle B. Scout Ranch Inyo-Kern Aug. 5-12.

They were Doug Allen, Ben Barnash, Gene Barnash, John Becker, Bill Becker, Lynn Bentley, Gregg Campbell, Frank Guavara, Bill Jackson, Allen Manes, Lee Maxfield, Orville Ortwig, Joe Prologo, Mark Selkee, Gary Smyth, David Sears, Bob Worley, Bill Yahne and Dick Yahne.

Assistant Scoutmasters Al Jackson and Bill Smyth accompanied and supervised the scouts.

Transportation to and from the camp was provided by the Upland-Foothill Kiwanis Club, sponsors of the troop of which Richard Sherman is scoutmaster. At camp were 175 boys from the Old Baldy area.

* * *

Scouts of Troop 622 were taught various skills and made a forty mile overnight hike-the longest hike undertaken by any troop at camp. Dick Yahne and Bill Jackson earned a special award for the Mile Swim. Bill Jackson had high score on the rifle range--42 out of a possible 50-for the week.

Mr. Bill Smyth had high score for the adult scouters.

Two Eagle scouts, Joe Prolongo and David Sears, were asked by the staff to remain and assist with duties in the final week of camp. Joe will assist in teaching skills and merit badge appointments and David will help in the Family camping area with nature hikes, tours and campfires.

Three members of the troop, John Becker, David Sears and Joe Prologo who are members of the Order of the Arrow participated in Arrow ceremonies the final night.

Mr. Jackson and Mr. Smyth also had charge of eight scouts from Troop 652 of Alta Loma.

All members of Troop 622 and their families will enjoy an all-day beach party at Corona del Mar August 26th.

SAN FRANCISCO FIRE

Editor:

The past eight weeks have been successful and fun-filled days for the Recreation Department and the children of the City of Upland. This could not have been possible, however, without the cooperation of the Upland News.

I want to take the opportunity to express my gratitude to you for the newspaper coverage you gave us. Roger Skinner has often mentioned the help you gave when he came to see you. Your cooperation will also be relayed to George Gibson, Chairman of the Upland Parks & Recreation Commission.

I hope in the future we can continue to call upon you for publicity which helps promote our summer recreation program.

Sincerely,
George Schilens

Healthy housing market in Pomona-West End

A "pretty healthy" housing market is developing in the Pomona-West End area, according to a spot survey of 106 tracts from Diamond Bar to Cucamonga.

The survey, conducted twice a year by the Residential Research Commission of Southern California, shows that housing now is almost in balance with demand, and that if the trend continued by the end of the year there may be fewer than 400 vacant new houses in the area which serves a population of nearly 350,000.

There are no estimates as to the number of old houses which are vacant, but the trend shows a decrease in volume there also, based on the number of turn-ons and turn-offs by utility companies.

The reduction in new occupied homes comes despite a turnabout in the construction industry which shows that five times as many homes were built during the first six months of this year than the last six months of 1966.

According to the report, on June 30 there were 823 vacant new dwellings in the areas composed of Pomona, Ontario, Montclair, La Verne, San Dimas, Upland, Chino, Claremont, Cucamonga, and Diamond Bar. This compares with 1,144 in December 1966; 1,735 in June 1966; 2,325 in December 1965; 3,324 in December 1964, and 3,610 in December 1963, the peak of overbuilt condition.

As for construction of new homes, the decline stopped during the past six months, when 267 houses were placed on the market, compared with 43 last December and an average of 2,500 new homes have been built in the Pomona Valley during the past five years.

One-third of the 823 vacant new homes is described by the survey as the hard-to-move type which are likely to remain unsold for some time, particularly with cleanup bargains offered on older tracts, and the start of new homes.

Lending officials say one reason why the construction industry has not made a more spectacular recovery is because local financial institutions are insisting that the builders clear up their present inventories of vacant homes before they apply for new commitments.

They point out that although this policy tends to slow the growth of the industry, it also acts as a brake for any possible runaway attempt, thus making the economy here more healthy in the long run.

Even with that light control, Paul D. Walker, president of Pomona First Federal Sovings and Loan Association, which has branch offices in most sections of the Pomona Valley, reports that the gross amount of loans is far ahead of last year.

He said a total of $3,427,800 was lent for construction during all of 1966. For the first six months of 1967, construction loans totaled $4,287,875, and by the end of July that amount was up by another million dollars.

Although the trend showed a slight slowdown in construction during the summer months, indications were that the industry would pick up later in the year, not only to replenish the dwindling supply of dwelling units, but also to provide additional housing for anticipated growth in population.

Upland at CSEA meet in force

Upland Chapter 163, of the 34,525-member California School Employees Association, elected two of its members as delegates to the association's 41st annual conference, which was held August 1-5, 1967, at the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles.

The delegates representing the chapter's 69 members were:

Tony A. Mendoza, chapter president, 748 E. Granada Court, Ontario, a custodian at Sierra Vista School; and Stephen Malacara, 8795 Via Mar, Cucamonga, custodian at Sycamore School. Malacara is vice-president of the local chapter.

Mendoza said the delegates joined more than 850 other delegates from throughout California in electing state officers for the 1967-68 school year, adopting an association budget in excess of $800,000 and acting upon over 30 resolutions and legislative proposals.

CSEA is the voice and representative of all classified personnel in the state's school districts and is made up of over 477 chapters. Employees represented are maintenance men, bus drivers, gardeners, custodians, cafeteria personnel, clerical and secretarial personnel, and classified administrators. The association is the voice of the classified school employee before local school boards, the state legislature, and all other governmental bodies.

Mendoza indicated that many of the resolutions acted upon relate to internal CSEA operations, however, many call for legislative action on such matters as school business manager positions, transfer of sick leave, payment for unused sick leave upon retirement, and medical/hospitalization insurance for retired employees.

On Wednesday evening, August 2, CSEA delegates heard a legislative report covering activities of the 1967 session of the state legislature.

"The legislative report covered CSEA-sponsored bills affecting overtime pay, holidays, payment of physical examinations, changes in civil service law, use of sick leave, employment after retirement, employer/employee relations, and other newly-enacted laws relating to classified school employees," Mendoza added.

Friday, August 4, was designated Education Day. Approximately 1500 additional school employees from school districts in and near Los Angeles attended more than 30 panel meetings which were held to improve the work skills of school employees, and to allow them to study new techniques and equipment now being used in schools.

Twenty-two employees of the Upland School District attended the conference and enjoyed an interesting and informative day.

"We are extremely grateful to our superintendent, Mr. Vern Orum, and our Board of Trustees for granting us the opportunity to attend this education day and for providing transportation via school bus. Our local CSEA chapter enjoys a splendid relationship with the Administration," Mendoza added.

The State Education Committee invited Mr. Orum to be a panel member of a discussion group on Thursday, August 3. The purpose of the panel was to discuss Chapter/Administration Relations and to share ideas with administrators and chapter delegates from other districts throughout the state.

A PARENT would be horrified to discover that his child's school did not hold fire drills. Yet a child is 200 times more likely to be trapped in fire at home than at school. Most of them could walk swiftly away from death if they were given the most elementary fire instructions. The most important lifesaving command to impress upon children is: Escape immediately. Also, map out, with the children helping, two separate escape routes from each room. More than 2,000 childrendie annually in home fires, reports the American Medical Association.

Lt. Maher receives navy award

In an awards ceremony held aboard the USS NEWMAN K. PERRY DD-883 at Newport Rhode Island Captain George F. Brittner, USN Commander of Destroyer Squadron Twenty, presented Lieutenant Daniel Richard Maher, USN with the Navy Commendation Medal for his outstanding performance of duty while the destroyer was operating off the coast of Vietnam.

The citation from the Secretary of the Navy commended Lt. Maher for: "meritorious achievement while serving as Navigator of the USS NEWMAN K. PERRY (DD-883) during the period 7 November 1966 to 4 April 1967. Under exceptionally adverse circumstances, Lieutenant Maher navigated his ship with outstanding professional competence, resoluteness and daring, thereby aiding in the destruction of significant military concentrations and supply staging areas in Viet Cong controlled territories of South Vietnam.

His constant vigilance, initiative and direct attention to the most minute details of his duties, enabled a Task Unit involved in special operations to expeditiously carry out its assigned mission. Lieutenant Maher's unceasing efforts, extraordinary skill and sincere devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service. Lieutenant Maher is authorized to wear the Combat "V".

* * *

This was Lieutenant Maher's second tour in Vietnam. He served as an advisor to the Vietnamese Junk Forces from June 1964 to July 1965. During that period he also earned a Navy Commendation Medal, as well as two Air Medals for his performance as an air crewman flying in light spotter aircraft in the First Corps Area.

Lieutenant Maher was twice decorated by the Vietnamese Government receiving their Gallantry Cross with Silver Star and the Honor Medal First Class.

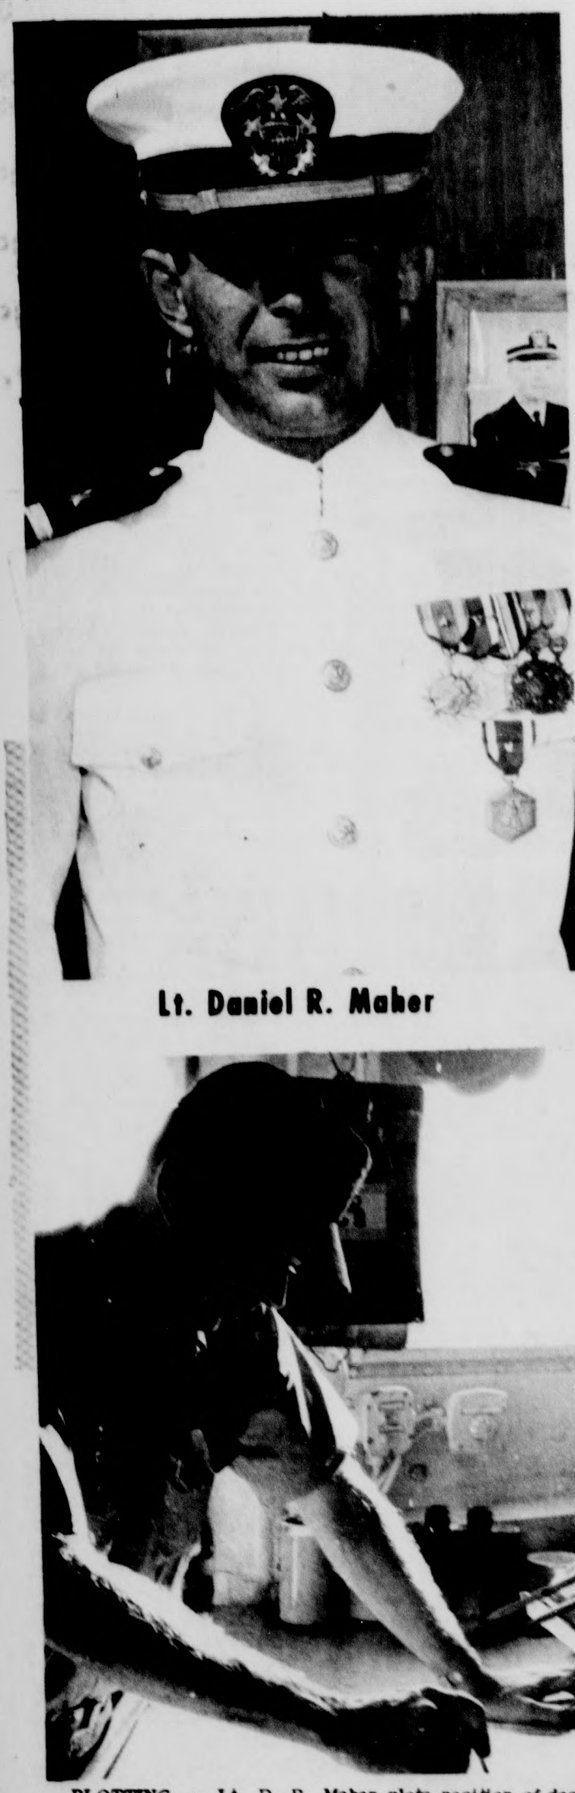

Lieutenant Maher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Maher of 1136 Canyon Drive, Upland. He is married to the former Judy McDonald of San Francisco California and they live with their two children Carolyn and David in Newport, Rhode Island. Prior to entering the Navy in 1958 Lieutenant Maher attended the University of Santa Clara.

Two West End highway projects are advanced

Governor Ronald Reagan announced today that savings of approximately $52 million realized in the departments of the Transportation Agency will allow the advancement of 13 major highway construction projects in the 1967-68 fiscal year.

"Secretary of Business and Transportation Gordon C. Luce has advised me that departmental personnel and operating economies, combined with competitive low bids on many construction projects and an inability to spend in various phases of all departmental operations, have created these massive savings," Governor Reagan said.

"I want to congratulate the many state employees whose fine cooperation has made these major economies possible."

The savings occurred in the Departments of Public Works, Motor Vehicles and California Highway Patrol.

A breakdown of the savings shows $16 million from 1966-67 low bids; $15 million from additional revenue in operating expense savings in the Departments of Motor Vehicles and California Highway Patrol; $6.15 million from refinanced projects in District 10; and $15 million to $20 million $15 million in 1966-67 personnel and operating expense savings in the Department of Public Works. Also it is anticipated that $15 million to $20 million can be added to the Highway Fund in 1967-68 because of a lower required cash cushion for expenditures in the California Highway Patrol and Department of Motor Vehicles departmental fund.

Gasoline taxes make up the Transportation Agency Funds and economies realized are then used for right of way and highway construction purposes.

"This is great news for California motorists and is strong evidence of the success of the Governor's program for our departments," Luce said.

"Advancing these highway projects will add more jobs for Californians, give contractors more business at a needed time and certainly speed up our highway safety program," said Luce.

Projects to be advanced in 1967-68 include:

$4,500,000 of the $6,000,000 needed to extend construction in progress on the eight - lane Interstate 210 (Foothill) Freeway two miles easterly from Azusa Avenue (Route 39) in Azusa, and to grade an additional 2.4 miles easterly to Glendora.

The project involves construction of an overhead across the A.T. & S.F. Railroad at the easterly end of the work.

The remaining $1,500,000 will be budgeted in the 1968-69 fiscal year.

$5,500,000 to extend a recently completed widening of the San Bernardino Freeway (Interstate 10) from four to eight lanes another 2.5 miles easterly from Pepper Avenue in Colton to the Interstate 15-US 395 Interchange in San Bernardino.

The project will complete widening of the freeway to eight lanes between the Los Angeles County line at Montclair and Banning in Riverside County, except for a three-mile stretch of six lanes through Ontario.

Other projects may be moved up during the year when other savings are actually realized, Luce said.

Luce pointed out that the $52 million figure may increase to $72 million by the end of fiscal 1968.

ANDRE' KOLE -- America's leading illusionist will appear at the Upland Church of the Nazarene Sunday, August 20th, at the 9:30 a.m. service. In his profession, Andre' Kole is known as a magician's magician and is regarded as one of the foremost inventors of magical effects. Some of his inventions are now used by magicians throughout the world. In addition to the many honors and awards he has received, recently while appearing in Buenos Aires, he was made an honorary member of the very exclusive Magic Circle of Argentina.

At the age of seven, Andre' Kole began his unusual and interesting career as a magician. By the time he was thirteen he was known as the outstanding Junior Magician, having appeared in over a dozen states, Canada, and Central America. Mr. Kole is a native of Arizona where he makes his home with his wife and two children. He is a graduate of Arizona State University with his degree in psychology.

Telephone school held

Thirty-seven General Telephone Company traffic engineers are attending a four-week Traffic Engineering School at Southern Illinois University.

The men, scheduled to graduate August 24, are from 15 states and from British Columbia and Quebec in Canada. Included are Spencer J. Smith, 563 Azure Court, Upland.

SIU's School of Technology and School of Business are co-sponsoring the sessions with the G.T. & E. Service Corporation. The Small Business Institute in the School of Business is directing the school.

Ralph Bedwell, director of the Small Business Institute, said this is the first time the General Telephone System has had a school of this nature for its traffic engineers. General Telephone is providing three-fourths of the instructional personnel, some from the home office in New York and others from state systems, he said.

INSURING AUTOMOBILES

New York -- Americans, in order to protect themselves against financial loss brought on by automobile accidents, purchased insurance with premiums totaling about $8.3 billion in 1965, according to the Insurance Information Institute.

California is the world's major producer of rare earths, important space age raw materials.

Miss Smith Weds

Miss Janis Marigene (Jeanne) Smith of Cucamonga became the bride of Mr. Bill T. Payne of San Diego on July 29, at the First Methodist Church in Upland.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Winn L. Smith, 7536 Alta Cuesta Drive, Cucamonga and Eugene K. Smith, Bloomington, Illinois.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Tommie Lou Payne, 300 E. Milam, Beeville, Texas.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her brother, Brian Allen Smith, Cucamonga, wore a chantilly lace cage, floor length, over white satin empire sheath. The gown featured bell sleeves and hemline scallops trimmed with sequins. A three-tiered veil of fresh illusion, elbow length, was held in place by a white velvet floral headpiece. The bride carried a colonial bouquet of white and yellow daisy poms, stephanotis, seed pearls and baby breath. The bouquet was tied with white streamers, fastened to a white Bible which was presented to the bride's maternal great-grandmother on her 100th birthday.

Miss Lynda Sue Hollist of Cucamonga served the bride as maid of honor. She wore a floor length pale green chiffon crepe empire sheath with blue satin trim. Her headpiece of matching green illusion was centered with lilies edged with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white daisy poms with blue streamers fashioned in a colonial bouquet similar to that of the bride.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Gary Patrick Connor of Cucamonga. He and the bridegroom served in the same Marine Corps unit in Vietnam. Michael McCabe of Cucamonga was usher.

The Rev. Richard Knowles, Associate Minister for the Methodist Church performed the ceremony before some 50 members of the familes and friends present.

The Church was decorated with two vases of white daisy poms and white altar candles. The flower arrangement was centered by a large basket of yellow and white daisies and white gladiolas.

A luncheon reception followed the wedding in the Gold Room of the Upland Inn. The bride's table was centered with a wedding cake trimmed with yellow and ringed with yellow and white daisies.

Following a short honeymoon, the newlyweds left for their home in San Diego.

The bride was a 1965 graduate of Alta Loma High School where she served two years as the editor of the school paper. She was a member of the student council and Quill and Scroll, a national journalism honor society.

She attended Chaffey College for two years, where she served as press representative for the Associated Women Students.

Payne was a 1965 graduate of the A. C. Jones High School in Beeville, Texas. He is a member of the United States Marine Corps and served in Vietnam from June of 1966 to May of 1967. He will be released from the Marines in November and plans to return to college.

Out of state guests attending the wedding were, Laurie and Becky Payne, sisters of the bridegroom from Texas, and Douglas Perkins, cousin of the bride from Independence, Missouri.

Mailbag

(Editor's Note: We received the following letter through the mail last week and felt that it should be printed in the interest of community feeling. The TIMES welcomes comments from its readers on this and any other subject of community interest and requests that its readers send their Letters to the Editor to The Cucamonga Times, Box 727, Cucamonga, Calif.)

Dear Mrs. Morris,

At a recent board meeting of the Cucamonga-Alta Loma Woman's Club, the Cucamonga Times was discussed. Some of the board members feel that it is too bad that the paper no longer maintains an office for its editor in the town of Cucamonga.

It is felt that you would have much more support from the community if people could take their news or ads into the office, or phone, with the feeling that these were being received in Cucamonga.

Perhaps you do not realize how much a part of the community this little paper has always been through the years.

I have been asked to write a note, bringing this to your attention.

Whatever is or is not done regarding this, the women feel it wise to express the thoughts of the board in this matter. Thank you very much.

Under Mr. Hollist's chairmanship, the Program Services Committee has prepared a set of colored slides with narration to help "tell the United Fund story" to all audiences. Another important detail of this Chairmanship is to help train the United Fund volunteers at a series of training sessions".

Lynn Hollist is a member of the Board of Directors of the local chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, member of a Boy Scout and Explorer Scout Committee, and an active participant of the Community Relations Seminar, as well as the Interreligious Institute. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Upland Lions' Club.

In announcing these two latest important chairmanships, Mr. Genge added, "I am very pleased with all the time and effort being spent on the part of every chairman in attempting to mobilize sufficient volunteers throughout the West End United Fund area to at long last ideally cover each division. The Goal is $335,000 for the current drive, and this is the highest goal in the history of the West End United Fund. It is anticipated that the communities will want to donate when they realize that this figure is based upon the needs of the 27 participating agencies. Therefore, we are expecting everyone to 'Sing Out and Give to the West End United Fund in 1967'. The drive commences during the week of September 25."

Dear Auntie May

Dear Auntie May,

Wondered if you missed me last week. . .there was no acceptable reason for my lack of communication, however, there wasn't much news out this way.

Now, this week is an entirely different matter. You know Mrs. Maria Arias of course, well, she has been living at 9858 Main Street for the past 45 or 50 years, so you should remember her. Anyway, one of her friends from Mexico came to visit her the other day. That in itself isn't exciting, but the fact that Mrs. Arias hasn't seen her for the past 40 years is pretty interesting.

You know Auntie May, the old heat is getting to us out here, and some of the people are heading for the hills. Joe Perez and the little woman are going to the Sequois and Yosemity to get away from it for awhile.

Rev. H. O. Espinoza will be going to the Youth Camp in Tecate, Mexico next week for a while. He is the director at the camp. . .has been now for the past five years. His wife in the mean time will take the kids and go to visit some of her relatives in Durango, Mexico.

Looks as if everyone has something to do this summer but me. . .I just have to clean up the mess in my apartment after some kind person broke in and turned the place upside down and inside out. Such is life. . . and my luck.

Got a little bit of news for you, Mrs. Patty Branstetter of Etiwanda will be the new secretary at the Sumit School in Etiwanda.

Say Auntie May, have you ever watched some of the local men out on the golf course. The same man that hasn't touched a lawnmower in two years and who would rather call a cab for an expectant wife will get himself up at 4 a.m., cook his own breakfast and drive 60 miles into the teeth of a hurricane to get to that first tee. Here he will pay an exhorbitant fee for the honor of standing around for 3 hours until his tee time comes up. He is resplendent in his Julius Boros hat; Arnold Palmer shirt; Jack Nicklaus shoes; Gary Player clubs; and his little Orphan Annie swing!

Now fishing, on the other hand, is my sport. . .which reminds me, Michael Castellini and his dad and some of their friends from Ontario went fishing about 220 miles below the border in Mexico a few weeks ago.

Tom and Linda Cunningham are coming up from Texas soon to see her mother, and father, the Mitchel Stwacki's. They are going to move to Ohio, and this will probably be the last time the Stwacki's see their oldest daughter for a while.

Not much else doing out here except that the Alta Loma recreation program is going pretty well. They had a mother-daughter, father-son tennis match last week that was kind of interesting . . .Brian Miller and his father and Steve Wyant Sr. and Steve Jr. came out best.

Nothing more to send your way for now, so until next week, keep smiling.

Sue

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffery Jennrich

Lemons- Jennrich Vows Said

The Rev. Donald Keepers performed an afternoon rite that united in marriage Miss Catherine Lemons of Cucamonga and Jeffery Jennrich of Glendora in the Pilgrim Congregational Church in Pomona recently.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lemons of 8542 Chula Vista, Cucamonga and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jennrich of Glendora.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a long white linen gown fashioned with a bodice of looped cotton lace. Her fingertip illusion veil fell from a white bow, and she carried a white orchid cascade.

Miss Linda McGuire of West Covina was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Toni Bao, the bride's cousin, and Debbie Jennrich, the bridegroom's sister, both of Glendora; Bette Ann Frost of Etiwanda and Annette Hawkins of Alta Loma. Patti Lemons, sister of the bride, was candle lighter.

The attendants wore yellow crepe sheaths and carried yellow daisies.

The bridegroom selected Eric Ranger of San Rafael as best man. Ushers were John Dugan of Temple City; Jack Harty of Glendora, Philip Dauses, and Daniel Lemons, the bride's brother. Tommy Lemons, the bride's brother, was ringbearer.

The couple are making their home in Montclair, following a honeymoon to Mexico.

The new Mrs. Jennrich graduated from Alta Loma High School where she majored in business education. She is employed in the dispatch department of the Ontario Daily Report.

Jennrich graduated from the Glendora High School and Citrus College, Azusa, and is associated with Forest Lawn, Covina Hills.

Brookside Winery Opens New Museum

The Brookside Vineyard Company has recently opened a wine museum in their facilities at Guasti, according to Michael Biane, sales manager for the company.

The museum, Biane said, is the only one of its type in the area. It shows how the wine industry was run during the last century and at the turn of the century as compared and contrasted with the present day wine producing methods and procedures.

Biane said that the museum will be open to all visitors as a part of the winery tour. Many of the things displayed in the cases, Biane said, are from the original days of Brookside and other things have been brought in. We are hoping to add to the museum, he said, many things that are not only typical of Brookside, but also typical of the whole wine industry in Southern California.

Biane said that there are many Italian people around the area and others as well who have many things that would add to the museum collection. He has asked that anyone wanting to donate any artifacts to the museum may do so by contacting him at Brookside.

Stevens To Talk At Local Church

Speaking on one of the major problems of the day, John H. Stevens will bring an interesting and informative message at Cucamonga Community Methodist Church, 7690 Archibald Avenue, Cucamonga, on August 20 at 11 a.m.

Mr. Stevens will be representing the Narcotic Educational Foundation of America which has been located and active in Los Angeles area for over 25 years. It is a non-profit organization, publishes literature, and produces sound film for national distribution.

Recent reports indicate that approximately 20% of the nation's narcotic problem exists in the State of California, and that Southern California is rapidly emerging as the number one narcotic problem area in the nation.

Fifty per cent of the crimes in metropolitan areas of our country are committed by addicts who are desperately trying to support their addiction. This illicit traffic is considered a constant threat to our youth and a growing menace to every community in our nation.

While there is no single or simple remedy for this problem, education and prevention is considered to be the major front and best cure and will lead to additional controls. The public is cordially invited to attend this presentation.

RIGHT DOWN THE MIDDLE--Upland City Engineer Fred Blanchard stands watch over City Manager Elwin Alder and Councilman Zella Stone as they paint the first white line on the pavement. This marks the opening of Campus Avenue between 16th and 19th Streets, a project started June 1 and completed yesterday. By the way, these three didn't have to finish painting the dotted lines--the city has a machine to do that job.

THEY ARE READERS -- These children have read the required ten books for the Upland Public Library summer reading program enabling them to receive a certificate and attend the Magic Show on August 29. In addition to the required ten books, older children were asked to turn in written reports on their reading. Laura Bye, on the right behind the desk, assisted Mrs. Phyllis Frost, head librarian, in keeping the children's records. Pictured above, from the left, are Dawna Gregory, Edmund Capparelli, Marie Secinaro, and Angel Aguilar. If Miss Bye's head were not attached to her shoulders, you could see Anthony Willis Capparelli standing on the far right. Angel, handing in his report, was the first to complete his ten books. Bill Hudspeth, a second-grader, holds the record at 69 books. The program ends this Saturday, August 19, with awards handed out the 29th of August at the Magic Show.

Agency To Study Cucamonga Area

The County Planning Commission through the West End Valley Planning Agency has recently authorized application for a $109,813 grant from the federal government to finance a comprehensive study of the Ontario-Cucamonga area, according to Jack McDermott, assistant planner on the current planning division of the County Planning Commission.

In a discussion with Dean Lucas, Cucamonga Chamber of Commerce president, McDermott said, the West End planning study is important to the people of Cucamonga and the surrounding areas due to changes such as the airport merger that will effect a large number of people in the area.

The West End planning study will probably begin within the next three months, McDermott said, "depending on when we are granted the money from the government"

"One of the parts of the study plan that will be of most interest to the Cucamonga area," he said, "is the study of community astatics. Several of the local community clubs have been active in starting this type of program in the area and we hope that they will work hand in hand with the county on this planning program to do the most for their community"

* * *

The boundaries of the area to be included in the county general plan for the Ontario-Cucamonga area are Foothill Boulevard and the Upland City limit on the north; Etiwanda Avenue and the Riverside County line on the east; Riverside Drive and Riverside County line on the south; and the Ontario-Chino-Montclair city limits on the west.

The area, McDermott said, has no general plan now and the object of this study is to make one and to update the plan of the whole West End area. The area under the direction of the West Valley Planning agency covers some 300 square miles. The area for the Ontario-Cucamonga General Plan takes in some 49 to 50 square miles.

McDermott explained that the Cucamonga area has been divided on Foothill Boulevard because the area of Alta Loma and portions of Cucamonga on the north are already a part of the Chaffey College master plan that has been established by the county and adopted as being up-to-date.

* **

The original leadership in getting the study started in the area, McDermott said, was done through the action of Daniel Mikesell and the County Board of Supervisors. Mikesell had suggested the need for such a plan in the area and the planning commission is getting the ball-rolling, he said.

Most of the study will be made in an effort to update the flood control, highway and economic systems of the area McDermott said. "We think there is a great spill-over from Los Angeles county. People are coming out here in greater and greater numbers and we are planning to be ready for them," he further said, "we are sure the area will grow and change tremendously."

The plan will no longer be under the planning commission from the county, McDermott said, but rather, is a part of the West Valley Planning Agency. The study plan was a joint powers decision and the WVPA has drawn up and adopted area wide objectives for the next two years.

Among the objectives for the Ontario-Cucamonga area drawn up by the West Valley Planning Agency were.

1. To produce a statement of general goals and objectives for the study area, that represent, as nearly as possible, the opinions of the various private and public sectors. These goals would then be used as a guide in producing alternative recommendations for the Comprehensive General Plan.

The second objective set forth by the planning agency is to prepare a refined adaptation of the regional economic study which will 1.) reveal the existing economic structure of the community in relation to the region, 2) evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of the economic base of the community 3) project the future economic growth of the community with supporting recommendations.

* * *

The third objective of the planning agency is then to prepare a comprehensive, long-range plan which will include all essential elements necessary to guide the physical development of the area in the future years. The general plan will include the studies of land use, economics, circulation and transportation, open space, and recreation, community and central business district design, and housing.

The fourth objective for the area will be to review and recommend steps necessary to implement the general plan, such as, neighborhood plans criteria with concept plans. Ordinance review and the draft of proposed up-dated ordinances, and preparation of a capital improvement program for the planning area.

* * *

The fifth objective involves producing a civic center plan showing the location of buildings, parking lots, etc., necessary to accommodate the future growth of the area. Also included is the development of a central business district plan showing the removal and replacement of old buildings and the location of public parking areas as a solution to traffic circulation and a goal for a "shoppers environment."

The sixth and last objective of the planning agency for the Ontario-Cucamonga area is a special study of the Ontario International Airport on land use and circulation in the area.

As a part of the study plan, McDermott said, "We must find a goals committee made up of responsible citizens in Cucamonga and find out what they want for their community. We are looking for the involved citizen that have the ability and desire to setup a series of goals for the community that can be presented to the West End Valley Planning Agency. Once the plans are made, there will be an open hearing for all the citizens of Cucamonga to come and give their views on the plan for their future community."

* * *

McDermott expressed the desire to meet with representatives from the local service clubs and organizations to discuss the plan study for the area. "We want to represent, as nearly as possible, the people in the area that will be affected by the general plan," McDermott said.

Montclair Plaza boosts building permit valuations

Building has been anything but spectacular the past year, but with the boost given by Montclair Plaza, the City of Montclair is amassing a respectable building permit valuation total in 1967.

Montclair Plaza permits add up to $4,880 440, the bulk of the permit total for 1967.

When July's business was toted up by the Building Department, the total was $2,527,247, with $2,378,000 credited to the May Co.

That was $2,300,000 for the building itself and another $78,000 for a plumbing permit.

July increased the year's total to $5,527,247, which is considerably better looking than last year's $890,555 for the first seven months.

Montclair Plaza's contribution in addition to the May Co. includes almost an identical total for the Broadway, $2,367,440, which breaks down into $2,058,000 for the building, $240,000 for a separate electrical permit and $69,440 for a plumbing permit.

Then there is another $135,000 permit for Crocker-Citizens bank.

July has another distinction--first residential building permit this year, a $19,900 valuation for a single family home.

Brookside Winery Opens Museum

The Brookside Vineyard Company has recently opened a wine museum in their facilities at Guasti, according to Michael Biane, sales manager for the company.

The museum, Biane said, is the only one of its type in the area. It shows how the wine industry was run during the last century and at the turn of the century as compared and contrasted with the present day wine producing methods and procedures.

Biane said that the museum will be open to all visitors as a part of the winery tour. Many of the things displayed in the cases, Biane said, are from the original days of Brookside and other things have been brought in. We are hoping to add to the museum, he said, many things that are not only typical of Brookside, but also typical of the whole wine industry in Southern California.

Biane said that there are many Italian people around the area and others as well who have many things that would add to the museum collection. He has asked that anyone wanting to donate any artifacts to the museum may do so by contacting him at Brookside.

Rumford Housing Act unchanged-- Victory or stay of execution ?

By John V. Briggs
35th District
California State Legislature

For several months the Legislature had been trying to agree on legislation to change the emotion-charged Rumford Housing Act, but the long 1967 session ground to a halt without any alterations being made to the four year-old law.

A Senate measure to repeal the Rumford Act was introduced January 3, the first day legislation was accepted. The Senate Committee on Governmental Efficiency passed the bill and then, after a bitter floor battle in March, the Senate voted 23-15 for repeal and sent the measure to the Assembly.

It eventually was modified by the Assembly Governmental Efficiency and Economy Committee in an effort to remove the controversial portions of the act, and subsequently passed by the lower house by a vote of 46-32.

Under the compromise version, most single-family dwellings would have been exempt, and tract sales by developers and dwellings of five or more units would be covered. Provisions of the Unruh Civil Rights Act -- which prevent discrimination in other accomodations -- were amended in.

* * *

But the Senate refused to accept this new measure, which would have been known as the "Bagley-Burns Act," a move compromisers said would help to soothe some factions who believe the title "Rumford Act" has generated too much bad feeling.

A conference committee of three assemblymen and three senators worked nearly all Saturday night and part of Sunday during the session's final weekend, but could not end the stalemate.

Thus, without new legislation, the Rumford Act stands as is. But what of the future?

There was considerable talk in the corridors of the Capitol during the session's final week of an initiative measure to repeal the law if the legislators did not weaken it.

It will be recalled that the legislation was enacted in 1963 and was nullified for a short time when the voters approved Proposition 14 in 1964. But Proposition 14 was struck down by the courts as going beyond repeal of the Rumford Act, and, instead, violating constitutional privileges.

But spokesmen for the California Real Estate Association, however, said they would not start a move toward an initiative. The CREA long has been against the Rumford Law.

LAST OF $2,000 -- Mrs. Joseph Monduck (left), president of the 25th District of the American Legion Auxiliary, looks on as Mrs. Arthur Novelli (right) accepts a check for poolside furniture from Miss Jean Fabun, community service chairman of the 25th District ALA. File 13

What's with those five "representatives of the people" elected to the Chaffey Union High School District Board?

No guts?

Or maybe they do have some. It takes something or other to hold a secret session to discuss how they are going to dispose of the public's money, in the face of the Brown Act, a state law that says their sessions will be open to the public.

The Brown Act does permit "executive" sessions to discuss personnel, which means an individual's performance on the job.

But the latest gambit, calling the annual budget a personnel matter, because a majority of the money goes for salaries, is restating Col. Vanderbilt's infamous dictum, "the public be damned."

* * *

Next thing you know, our dear high school trustees (who trusts them now?) will declare ALL of their meetings secret, because there is hardly an action they take, a discussion they make, that somehow doesn't involve some school personnel, even if it is only one administrator's signing a document, or setting a policy that an administrator must carry out.

The curriculum involves teachers and administrators. Policies on bussing children involve bus drivers and administrators.

Frankly, I think that the High School Board and Supt. Al Smith would like to hold all their sessions behind closed doors.

Smith likes to run a taut ship, and sometimes the taxpayers and the parents of children in high school can be an awful bother.

I know Ben Allen well, and I suspect that he too would like to sit and pontificate, not to say dictate, to the public and pay no attention to what the public wants.

* * *

It's just because secret deals have been so detrimental to the public's welfare and pocketbook that California has the Brown "open meeting" Act.

There were so many abuses of the public and taxpayers, so much poor, if not downright crooked, use of the public's funds in the "good old days" that the Legislature enacted a law to force local boards to conduct their business in public.

I'm sure there was no criminal intent or any criminal action involved in the secret session of the CUHS Board.

But I think there certainly was an attempt to hide the feelings of some of the board members from the public.

That's why I wonder about the intestinal fortitude of the members of the board. Are they afraid of a recall if they speak up in public? Or are they thinking of the votes at the next election?

I can promise one thing, when that next election comes up, so will the secret sessions of the High School Board.

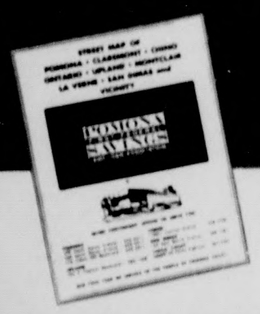

I wonder what else the High School Board is hiding from the public?

* * *

The Board is lucky. I don't have the funds to go into court on this subject, not the regular courts, but I can go to the court of public opinion.

When any board is spending millions of dollars of the public's money, the discussions and decisions on that money MUST be in public sessions, so we know what is going on.

Legion Auxiliary writes 'success' to its project

Each year the 25th district of the American Legion Auxiliary selects a community service project or two. The past fiscal year, pool equipment and poolside furniture was one of the projects chosen.

Miss Jean Fabun, San Bernardino, community service chairman, presented a sizeable check to Mrs. Arthur Novelli, Montclair, president of the Patton Volunteer Services Association, Inc., to purchase a much needed beach umbrella and stand.

This presentation was made at the annual luncheon held poolside at Patton State Hospital when staff members and California State Officials were guests of honor.

* * *

Recognition of volunteer hospital workers was made by presenting pins to all those who had served their first 100 hours during one year at Patton or who had been an active volunteer for more than 5 years.

Receiving these pins from the American Legion Auxiliary were Mrs. Ruth Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Holt, all of Yucaipa, and J. A. Engberg, American Legion representative of Redlands.

Mrs. Arthur Novelli made the presentations and was assisted by Mr. Edward Lamb, volunteer coordinator.

Installation ceremonies were held at the close of the meeting with Mrs. Harry Keyser, past president, acting as installing officer.

Installed were: Mrs. Novelli, second term as president and representing Ontario American Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. Hope Jordan, vice president; Mrs. Dan Sheckler, vice president; Mrs. Myrtle Weeks, vice president; Mrs. A. V. Sanderson, treasurer; Miss Fay Hamilton, secretary; Mrs. John Tillman, corresponding secretary; and Mmes. Francis Walski and Heler Meares, directors.

A meeting of board members will be held August 17.

Upgrade in management

Four West-end trainees completed the Pomona Division of General Dynamics' initial pre-supervisory training program last Thursday, August 10.

The students were R.C. James and E.H. Russell, Montclair, and J.F. Gebel and E.B. Von Noy, Upland.

The training was a special eight-week briefing program for individuals previously selected for supervisory consideration. The candidates will now be placed in a pool from which promotions may be made for a period of one year.

Pre-Supervisory Training is one of several voluntary programs that make up the division's Management Upgrade effort. The overall intent of Management Upgrade is to provide for future management needs, in depth, through an aggressive pattern of selection, training, coaching and utilization of individual initiative.

Clean up by cleaning up

VICTORVILLE -- Future Farmers of America and 4-H youth can "clean up by cleaning up" at the San Bernardino County Fair.

Chapters and clubs can win trophies for the best livestock barn displays in four FFA and five 4-H categories. Appearance and cleanliness will count a full 50 per cent.

Sen. Kuchel documents the threat

U.S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel today disclosed a letter to him from the Interior Department which he said, "clearly documents the threat to homeowners and other electric power users in Southern California if the present Hayden-Udall Central Arizona Project legislation becomes law."

Kuchel referred to the letter during debate in the Senate on the controversial Colorado River water legislation.

The letter indicates that by 1990 the rate for power from Hoover Dam paid by the cities of Glendale, Burbank, Pasadena, and Los Angeles would be hiked by 48%.

Hoover power charges to the Metropolitan Water District would be raised by the same percentage, causing "up to a $4 million annual increase in MWD charges to its customers," Kuchel, the Senior Senator from California said.

The bill, currently on the Senate floor for debate and a vote, is backed by Secretary of the Interior Udall and Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona, and is opposed by Kuchel as "a measure which completely ignores the water needs of Arizona's neighbors, and which makes Southern California subsidize Arizona's pet project, which will take water away from California."

"Californians would not oppose increased rates if the end result were to bring a permanent supply of extra water into the Colorado River," Kuchel said.

Pro football, half time entertainment on night's program

Hard hitting professional football comes to the West End Friday night and it'll all be for the benefit of the Upland Kiwanis sponsored Boys Club.

"It'll be exciting--and it's all for charity," said Jack Blair, Upland Kiwanis Club president.

The two men are speaking of the Upland Kiwanis Club charity football game, slated for Aug. 18 at 8 p.m. at the Chaffey High School stadium.

It'll be the Bulldogs vs. the San Diego Tornados. The two teams are members of the Western Football League. Last year, the Bulldogs finished third, Tornados, fourth.

"The Tornados are favored to win the league this year," said Toole. "We're going to see they don't."

The half-time show will be highlighted by "Hawaiian Abe" and his group of Polynesian dancers and an exhibition of boxing by members of the Upland Boy's Club.

Proceeds from the game will go to the Boy's Club and the Kiwanis charity fund.

The Upland Kiwanis have sponsored several big community projects this year--Harlem Clowns basketball game, rummage sale, pancake breakfast, senior citizen Christmas Party, and improvements at Camp Aldy and Circle B.

The club also sponsors the Key Club at Upland High School, Circle K at Chaffey College, a boy scout troop, an explorer troop, and a Colt League team.

Sponsors are hoping for a sellout of the 5,200 available seats.

Coach Charlie Toole--after eight drills, two contact sessions and a scrimmage with the New Orleans Saints of the National Football League--has pronounced his troops in top condition for their exhibition test against the Western Football League rival.

Especially impressive to the former collegiate mentor, and member of the famed Boston College bowl teams of the 1939-40 era, has been quarterback Robert Bonds.

At 6-foot-1, 210 pounds, the former all-Citrus Belt League performer from Riverside High School compares favorably with the best in the pro ranks. And he can outrun any of his more heralded contemoraries since he has a 9.4 clocking in the 100-yard dash.

Bonds is from a famed athletic family, a brother (Bobby) being a bonus baby in the San Francisco Giants baseball organization and a sister (Rosie) being one of the nation's top hurdlers. He is a former San Jose State College football regular and has played two years of pro football.

Bonds may not be the fastest member of the Bulldogs, though, since John Howard has a similar clocking for the 100 and at 6-1, 180, has a weight advantage. He, too, is from a famed athletic family--his residence being San Bernardino. Remember Junior and Bob Howard?

Team captain this season is Don (Doc) Holladay, whose 6-0, 205-pound frame belies his competitive desire. Toole considers him one of the finest take-charge athletes he has ever been associated with.

They wuz robbed! But the record is straight now; Umpire awards game to the Americans

An umpire's ruling following last week's game between the American Minor league all-stars and the Foothill Minor League All-stars game the affair to the American team, 16 to 13.

The American leaguers led 16 to 13 at the end of the fifth inning. The Foothillers came back in the sixth inning to claim four more runs but the umpire called the event due to darkness before the Americans had their time at bat.

The game, officially, went into the record books as a victory for the American all-stars, 16 to 13, the score at the end of the five complete innings.

The American league was beaten by the Junior Chamber of Commerce Little League all-stars, July 30, by a 5 to 4 score.

Five American minor league teams played this year. They were The Chiefs, the Hotshots, the Firebirds, the Sparks, and the Fireballs.

With those names it was no surprise that their sponsor was the Upland Fire Department.

FISHING WAS GOOD--Salmon were running for a party of far-ranging West End fishermen August 3, 4 and 5th off the coast near Pacific City, Oregon. "Best fishing there in 20 years," exclaimed Ed Watkins, 1372 North Second Street, Upland, at left above, as he displays the proof of the pudding with Karl Palmer of Claremont. The fishermen caught their limits, of nine each, on each day. Mrs. Dottie Palmer, of Claremont, was also in the party. The fishing was done in a dory just outside the breakers with live bait. The weight of the fish, now smoked and in Upland, averaged 15 pounds.

It inflicted $715 million in insured property losses, more than doubling the previous record loss of $350 million in the San Francisco earthquake and fire of 1906.

COSTLY FIRES

New York - There were 16 fires in the United States in 1965 which caused $2.5 million or more each in insured property damage, according to the Insurance Information Institute. There were only six such fires in the United States in 1964.

Senior citizens to hear report on Reagan's budget and elderly

Senior Citizens will hear a report on "Governor Reagan's Budget and the Elderly" at a meeting of the California League of Senior Citizens on Tuesday, August 22, at 10:30 a.m., at James Crane's residence, 241 South 2nd Ave. in Upland.

League Members and Friends will be told about the California League of Senior Citizens successful effort to retain in this year's state budget, the four dollar pension raise which was voted during the last session of the legislature. The Senior Citizens will also be told about other aspects of the budget, including the reduction in funds for California's mental health program.

Other topics which will be taken up at the meeting include progress of Congressional action to increase Social Security Benefits, and action by the state legislature to make sure that these Social Security benefits are passed on to California Pensioners.

The League members and friends will also hear a report on the nationwide campaign being waged by Myrtle Williams, the Chairman of the California League of Senior Citizens, on behalf of a National Pension Bill which will guarantee every American, 62 years of age and older, plus the blind, and disabled, a minimum income of $242 a month. This plan is contained in two identical measures - H.R. 335 by Congressman Phillip Burton of San Francisco and S. 1056 by Senator Jennings Randolph of West Virginia which are now being considered by Congress.

National Millionaire contest

Area couples who have wished they could set aside everyday cares and live like millionaires for just a weekend will have a chance to do precisely that in the unprecedented National Millionaire contest now being conducted by Harvey's Paint Store, 337 North 2nd Ave., Upland, Calif.

The winning couple will be treated to a gilt-edged, expense-free, fabulous fling at Los Angeles' celebrity-studded high spots, according to Harvey Lenhert, owner.

At the disposal of the winners for their fun weekend will be a sleek Rolls Royce limousine valued at $40,000, and a liveried chauffeur to snap to attention. The Rolls is the pride of Executive Chauffeur Service in Anaheim and normally doesn't leave the garage for anyone but a tycoon or a film luminary.

To protect milady's shoulders from the evening chill, she will wear a $30,000 chinchilla straight stole selected from the vaults of Furs by Lipsey, Beverly Hills.

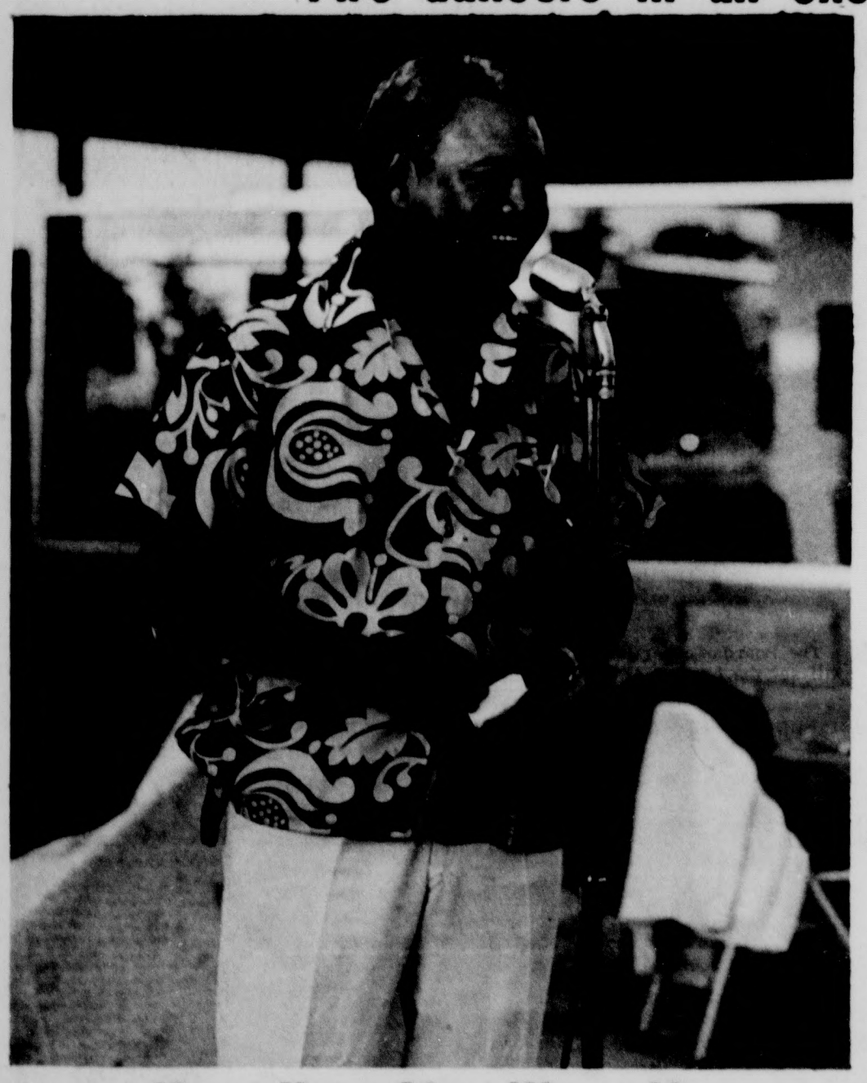

Posh accommodations have been reserved for the winners by the management of the luxurious Century Plaza hotel, including a sumptuous morning-after breakfast served in bed or on a private patio.

Mr. and Mrs. Millionaire will be guests of honor at the exclusive Westside Room on the terrace of the Century Plaza, where they will enjoy a deluxe dinner, dancing and a headliner show.

For after-hours fun, the winners will be whisked in their Rolls to the famous Gaslight Club in the Beverly Hilton Hotel. By special arrangement, the management of the members-only key club will waive the rules and welcome the winners for cocktails and a way-out show.

Although the contest is sponsored by National Paint and Varnish Company, no purchase is necessary to enter. Purchases of National Paint products will be noted on entry blanks, however, and if such a purchase was made by the winner the entire amount will be refunded. This refund pledge will hold true even if the winners have bought enough National Paint to redo an entire home, inside and out.

In addition to the grand prize winners, scores of other couples will receive valuable prizes. Complete details of the contest are posted in the store window, and entry blanks may be obtained inside without obligation.

Upland in Inland library system

The Inland Library System is now in operation. Five public libraries in San Bernardino County, including Upland, are cooperating to provide more books and library service to the public.

Mrs. Louise Franke, librarian for the Upland Public Library stresses that each library continues to operate as a separate, independent unit, locally controlled and administered. To assist in the establishment and operation of the Library System, state funds have been granted under the California Public Library Services Act.

The five libraries have more than 3/4 million books which are available for reference use or circulation to library users throughout the system. A library patron may have books borrowed for him by his local library, or he may visit other libraries in the system to secure books or information.

At his local library, a library borrower may have his card stamped with the system stamp to show that he is eligible to borrow books from any system library, branch or bookmobile.

The System libraries, through cooperation, hope to save in staff, materials and equipment, and to strengthen local libraries. Books are evaluated cooperatively, and cataloging books for all libraries is done at the processing center at the San Bernardino County Library. Higher discounts through larger quantity orders provide more money for more books.

The San Bernardino Public Library is the reference center for the system. Specialized reference materials will be purchased, so that information not available elsewhere in the system may be secured at the reference center.

Librarians at local libraries will be able to contact the reference center quickly for information on specialized requests when the information is needed in a hurry. Photocopy service is available at the reference center and at a number of other libraries.

"Let's talk dry cleaning"
BY ELISE PITTENGER
Taste and style are two words that are bandied about rather freely in the fashion world today. While styles change almost as often as the season, taste is more of an abiding quality. It is that attribute which enables those who have it to choose clothing which best suits their personalities.

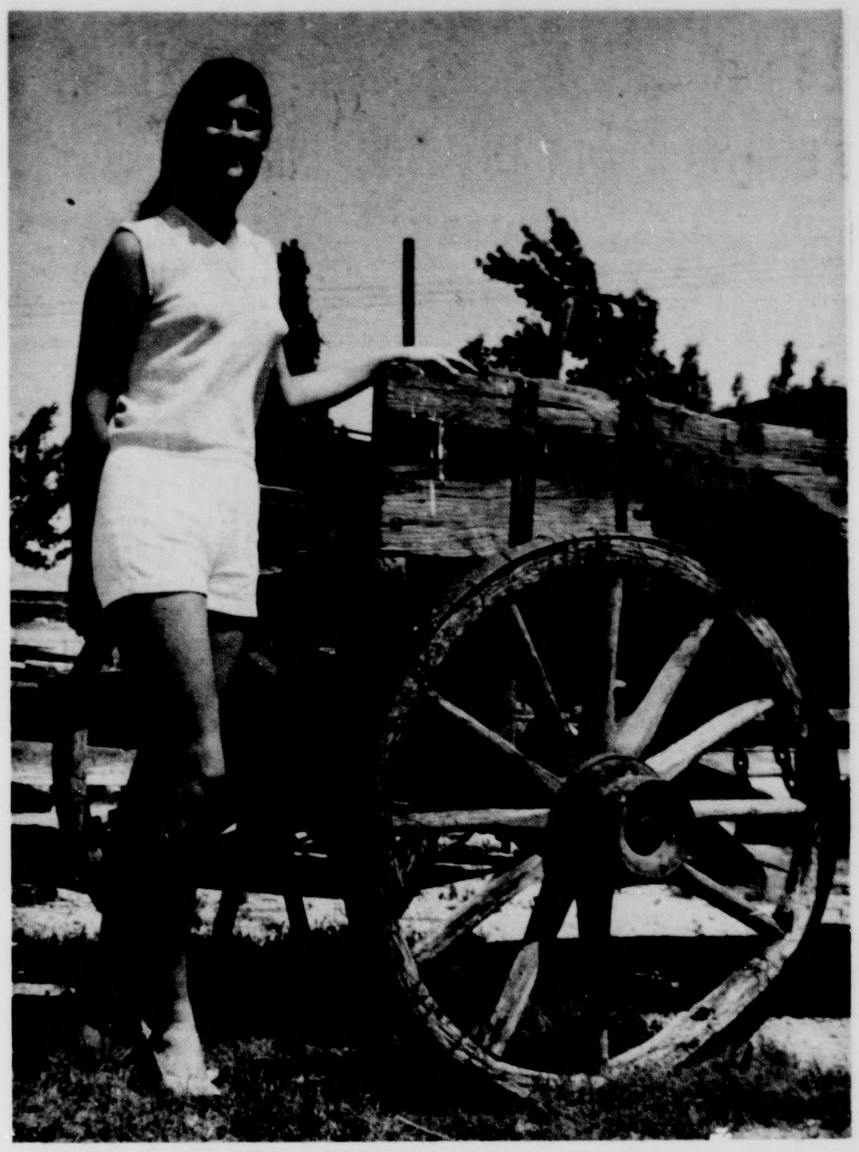

But good taste in clothing doesn't end with their selection. It also includes clothes care. When they are spotlessly clean and freshly pressed, they speak quietly and firmly about your poise, position and personality. They give you that wonderful "at ease" feeling at businss and social occasions.
You've carefully selected the garments in your wardrobe for quality, color, style and line. Clothing so carefully selected deserves the best in expert cleaning. That's exactly what we give every article you send us.

County tax increase under 10 cents

The Board of Supervisors, after four weeks of concentrated budget study and revisions, concluded the review of the 1967-68 budget for the County of San Bernardino, with a dramatic reduction of 8 1/2¢ in tax requirements for property owners of San Bernardino County.

They added an additional $1,095,000.00 in anticipated revenue to the budget. Although the final property tax is not yet known, Board Members are certain that it's increase over last year's $2.11 will not exceed 10¢.

Chairman Daniel D. Mikesell said that "this completed what was perhaps the most intensive budget review ever experienced by the Board Members in this County"

As a result of the efforts of the board members, it was possible for the budget to be drastically reduced with a resulting savings to property tax payers of at least 45¢ originally anticipated as a tax rate increase."

Mikesell said the budget effort was characterized by a spirit of excellent cooperation and a constant attempt on the part of the Administrative Staff, Department Heads and others to provide the most economical spending program, as a public service for the citizens of the County."

* * *

The County budget, which will be something less than $100,000,000, represents an increase of about 7% in proposed spending, most of which is related to increased case loads in the Welfare Department, hospital services by the County General Hospital, and Law protection costs of the Sheriff's Office as well as County departments serving segments of the population requiring assistance by the Health Department, Probation Department, and the Courts.

Although Department Heads had originally requested 331 positions, and these requests had been cut to 207 in the proposed budget recommendations of the Administrative Officer, the Board Members slashed new employees to 75 positions-one of the lowest total number recommended and approved in recent years.

In a meeting of the Board of Supervisors and Department Heads, immediately after adoption of the budget, the Board Members requested Department Heads to continue their operations as they have during the present fiscal year, maintaining services at the current level and further instructing them not to expand their activities nor to establish new programs so that costs can be kept as low as possible.

The Department Heads have indicated that they will attempt in every way possible to follow the leadership of the Board in continuing their departmental functions and that only a matter of increased work load or mandatory legislation from the State Level would require changes during the fiscal year.

During the next three weeks the Administrative Office and Auditor-Controller's office will be coordinating the compilation of final budget details so that a total budget figure, along with the amount required to be raised by property taxes, can be submitted to the Board for their consideration prior to September 1st.

The Board of Supervisors will set the tax rate at that time.

The newly organized Upland Junior Women's Club will hod a patio tea for prospective members on Sunday, August 20, from 2-4 p.m. at the Upland home of Mrs. Richard Flores, President.

Chairman of the event is Mrs. Mark King, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Gaukler, membership chairman, Mrs. Richard Clements, and Mrs. David Stewart.

Anyone interested in attending the tea may call Tea Chairman, Mrs. King, 982-8337, or Membership Chairman, Mrs. Gaukler, 982-1789.

Stevens likes new business

From asphalt paving and excavations in the construction business to a rental firm offering everything from poodle clippers to concrete mixers is the story of Jack L. Stevens, 8631 Mignonette St., Alta Loma.

Stevens listed locking the door at 5:30 p.m. and a closer relation with the people he serves as reasons he likes his new venture as Stevens Foothill Rentals, 1690 West Foothill Boulevard.

"I have more time for my wife and three children now," he said. "I find that I deal more closely with people in this business and I like that."

He purchased the Pulver's Rental company in June of this year after some 12 years of private contracting in the West End area. His company had the contract to pave much of the Upland downtown parking area as well as many other projects in Ontario, Cucamonga and Alta Loma.

Stevens Rentals offers a full line of home-owner and contractor equipment, including plumbing, electrical, and painting items as well as cement mixers, skiploaders, trailers, trucks and vans.

"If I can't meet your need I can tell you where to go to get it," says Stevens.

STEVENS RENTALS—Jack L. Stevens, West End area paving contractor, likes his new rental business. "I deal more closely with people," he said, "and I get home to my family earlier."

Company breaks ground

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Hartwell Company, located on 6th St., between Archibald and Turner Avenue, took place last Tuesday at 3 p.m. as the first step in the industrial development of the plant in the Cucamonga area.

Daniel D. Mikesell, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, from the second district was on hand for the ceremonies.

The Hartwell Corporation, of West Los Angeles, are designers and manufacturers of industrial mechanical fasteners. They are locating their plant on a ten acre site in Cucamonga.

According to Robert Hartwell, the firm's vice president and general manager, the E. F. Mac Donald Construction Company of Temple City has designed a 30,000 square foot tilt-up slab building that will be under construction shortly. Production is expected to begin in the plant in October.

Hartwell stated that the firm's capital investment in land, building and equipment at the new location will exceed $250,000. He also stated that the plant would employ as many as 100 persons within the first 12 months of operation.

Arthur B. Groos, Director of the Economic Development Commission, stated that William H. McGurty, industrial coordinator, handled arrangements involving the site location and related services inanswer to an initial inquiry from Hal Marcus of Rammco Investment Corporation of Studio City. McGurty then collaborated with real estate broker, Leon Lucas, of the Lucas Land Company in Cucamonga, representing the owners of the property and with Marcus in finalizing the transaction.

The Hartwell Corporation was founded by its current President, Clark Hartwell in 1939. Approximately 350 people are employed at the firm's West Los Angeles headquarters plant and another 30 at its Lockwell Products Division in Azusa. About 70 more employees will be added to the Azusa facility in the next six months.

SUMMER RECREATION -- A few members of the Fun After Fifty Club spent the afternoon playing cards in the shade offered in the Upland Memorial Park. This is just one of the many activities sponsored by the Club.

They were ready for the emergency

DISASTER DRILL VICTIMS--What appears to be five very seriously injured boys (upper left) is in reality an act on their part, but for a very good reason. The members of Boy Scout Troop 632, Upland, participated in the staged disaster drill to test the ability of the San Antonio Community Hospital in handling actual emergencies. The boys, with wounds ranging from broken fingers to unconsciousness and internal injuries, were taken to the Hospital in ambulances and cars. Those unable to walk were transferred to stretchers (lower left) at the emergency entrance, or directed to the proper room if they could walk. Hospital officials (above) found out the names of the injured and the extent of their injuries. This drill was designed to test the strength and weaknesses of the hospital for handling a disaster of any type, and according to Robert Boyle, administrative intern, it was "probably the most successful drill we've ever had. There were a few problems, but we accomplished our purpose."

Reading is important

We hear about a handicapped child and our heart goes out to the innocent victim of circumstance. Somewhere in every community there are handicapped children who, while maybe not suffering from injury or disease, still need help. This is the child with a vision handicap.

In this competitive age of accelerated education demanding the best vision possible, it is not enough for the child to see, but to see well. The problem in every community is how to detect whether a child has a vision handicap. A school screening technique pioneered in California, the Modified Clinical Technique (MCT), has produced statistics that 14% of first grade children and 17% at 9th grade level have some vision handicap. The MCT program which has been used to screen several hundred thousand California school children since its inception in 1954, is beginning to make parents and schools aware of vision handicaps previously undetected.

Education demands that a child successfully complete the task of reading an average of 432 books in his 12 school years. Yet the traditional concern that a child "just see" overlooks factors in vision and reading efficiency such as the unique downgaze required in reading, possible abnormal intermittent eye turn (which causes the reader to loose his place) or binocular coordination (necessary for our two eyes to work together).

Optometrists list at least 12 known essentials to good vision for children today. Vision handicaps in any of these can prevent a child (of normal or above intelligence) from achieving. Many of these essentials were of no concern when the current younger generation's parents were in school. Only recently have all these factors been receiving professional attention. Almost all of the essential vision factors can now be improved or corrected. Modern thinking of vision as a dynamic process calls for more sophisticated analysis than an eye chart, for example, to detect the handicapped child and help him recover full and efficient vision.

Men In Service

A Cucamonga man distinguished himself in the armed services, as a rare member of the Marine Corps who took a leave of duty to visit another Marine Base.

Glen Neubauer, 7427 Scott Lane, Cucamonga, a Marine stationed on active duty in Viet Nam received his papers to go on leave July 16. The commanding officer was a bit shocked when Neubauer gave his leave address as a Marine Base a few miles south of Da Nang. The object of the leave was to visit his brother, who was stationed at the other base, in the hospital with injuries he received in action.

On Neubauer's return to his own base on the 23rd of July, he was informed that he had just become a father.

His wife, Linda, gave birth to a baby girl, Deborah Lynn, at San Antonio Hospital that morning.

Neubauer has been in Viet Nam since March and will return to the Cucamonga area to see his daughter for the first time in October. At that time he will have one year and three months left of active duty.

Both Neubauer and his wife are graduates of Alta Loma High School.

Italian federation plans its activities

At a recent meeting of the Italian Catholic Federation, St. Joseph's Branch #216, an agenda was made for the remainder of the year

Included is a Communion and breakfast Sunday, August 20, for the members and their families.

This will be at St. Joseph's Church, Upland at the 8:15 mass.

A Dodgers baseball game is on the agenda for September. Anyone interested in obtaining tickets is to contact Pres. Joseph Palmisano.

Beginning at the September meeting, all members are urged to bring canned goods, used clothing and toys so they can be readied for some needy families in time for Christmas.

President Joseph Palmisano was named delegate to the ICF 37th annual convention to be held this year in San Mateo over the Labor Day weekend. Mr. Michele Gallo was named alternate.

Twelve new members were initiated into the branch at the July meeting. Fifteen year-old Philip N. Rogone was welcomed as the youngest member of the branch.

Others that were initiated were:

George T. Assinelli, Lucio Caruso, Jennie Caruso, Alberine Mannerino, Nicola Mannerino, Angelo Marchione, James Paciotti, Josephine R. Rinauro, Angela A. Vignocchi, Roger T. Vignocchi and Carmela Volpendesta.

* * *

Mrs. Rachele Sacconi of Giulianova, Italy was a guest at this meeting. Andrew Cangemi was welcomed as a new member.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Joseph Palmisano and Mrs. Mary Rogone. After the meeting, the members were entertained by Mr. Gallo who played the piano and sang. Group singing was enjoyed by all.

Tax reform promised

A firm promise of tax reform by Governor Ronald Reagan was a major factor prompting Assemblyman John V. Briggs (35th District) to cast the deciding vote on Governor Reagan's $866 million state tax measure.

Brigg's decision, to change his "no" vote to an "aye" vote, he said, followed a one-hour meeting with Governor Reagan and his staff. At a Republican caucus session Thursday nite, a roll call vote was taken of all 38 Republicans to determine their vote on the upcoming tax bill. Briggs who represents Montclair, cast the only no vote in the caucus session.

On the Floor the following day of the Assembly, Briggs then cast a no vote for SB 556, the only Republican to do so. This immediately threw the Assembly into a turmoil as it was well known that Jesse Unruh's Democratic strategy was to force every Republican to vote for the bill before he would deliver the Democrat vote necessary to pass the bill.

Governor Reagan was at a meeting at a nearby hotel and was called away from this meeting by Republican leaders in an attempt to sway Briggs' from his position.

"The Governor told me," Briggs said later, "that if the bill did not pass it would be a personal defeat for him and a victory for Jesse Unruh. He said the Republicans should stay together and appealed to me as the head of our Party."

Briggs said also that Reagan felt the tax bill "was as good a piece of legislation that could be passed at this time, with the Democrats being the majority party. It was the least 'hurtful' of the plans presented."

Briggs said also that Reagan's staff had explained in detail the tax program which was the first such explanation he had received.

"It was one of the toughest decisions I've ever had to make," Briggs said. "The reason I was against the bill was that I felt essentially it was a Democrat problem inasmuch as they were the ones who spent the billion dollars and therefore all of their membership should be voting for it rather than vice-versa, plus the provisions for property tax relief are rather vague and I needed the Governor's personal assurance that property tax relief was going to be forthcoming."

"I also didn't like the Democrats forcing the Republicans to vote for the bill before they (Democrats) went along with it. The Democrats I feel are only interested in political games and not in the welfare of the people."

LOOK THIS WAY, PLEASE -- Pretty Betsy Griffin, "Miss Mentone," meets friendly member of family of "Bingo," desert burro mascot of San Bernardino County Fair. Betsy's also a contestant in rodeo queen contest that first night of six-day fair opening Aug. 30 at Victorville. Horseracing and state championships rodeo are features.

Leaping Lizards! Popular desert zoo at San Bernardino fair again

VICTORVILLE -- Leaping Lizards! Have you heard about the desert zoo at the county fair?

An immediate hit when inaugurated at last year's San Bernardino County Fair at Victorville, it will be vastly bigger, more varied and better housed this year.

Speaking of lizards, there will be 30 desert varieties.

Snakes? Nine varieties of rattlers alone, including the famed sidewinder, the Mojave green and red, the Pacific and West Pacific, the western, speckled, pigmy and canebrake. Unbreakable "glass within glass" will provide complete protection for viewers.

And more snakes: burrowing, glassy, patch-nose and long - nose, racers, boas, garters and rear-fang reptiles like the lyre and night snakes. There's also a gila monster.

There are desert tortoises, rodents, a weasel, ring-tailed cat, turkey vulture, great-horned owl, red-tailed hawk, striped and spotted skunks and chukkar quail.

the skunk and Olie the badger will greet young friends again. Randy the raucous raven will attempt to upstage Charlie, the friendly coyote --an old favorite--as the center of attention.

The county fair's desert zoo was conceived and largely developed by a red-haired young zoologist, Wayne Fowlie of Victorville. At 19, he's already a recognized expert on wild life. He plans a career as teacher and writer.

Fowlie's in charge of the desert zoo. He's also found wide support for a "desert wildlife center" taking shape at nearby Victor Valley College.

It was Fowlie who mapped out the kangaroo-rat jumping contest last year that captured the fancy of thousands of visitors. It's become a unique feature of the desert exposition.

"The desert is fascinating. It's far from the dead and lifeless place many people think it is," says Fowlie.

The desert zoo at the 20th annual county fair will open a window into that exciting world of the High Desert.

June building activity up in San Bernardino

Building and construction activity in the Riverside-San Bernardino two-county area during June was at a level some 35.5 percent above that of the corresponding month a year ago, according to the Inland Division Economic Research Department of Security First National Bank.

The total valuation of nearly $38.0 million was mainly the result of a large amount of nonresidential building. This sector has consistently been a source of stability in the face of the widespread building slump of the past three years.

Residential building was also stronger during the past few months. So far this year, only in April did this category record a decrease on a month-to-month basis. Residential building valuation for June rose to a level of $9.7 million, 5.4 percent above that of June, 1966.

Riverside County construction activity reached its highest level since August, 1965. Total dollar volume at $17.4 million was nearly 60 percent above the June, 1966 mark. The relatively large total was due mainly to nonrecurring projects, such as a $3.8 million sewer construction contract in the Corona and Sunnymead areas, and a $2.67 million library unit at the University of California, Riverside.

In San Bernardino County during June nearly all sectors of construction recorded higher levels of activity than in the corresponding month a year ago. Total building and construction was valued at $20.6 million, 20.4 percent above June, 1966. The dollar volume of residential building reached its highest level since March, 1966, while the number of new dwelling units authorized recorded its highest monthly figure since May, 1966.

Nonresidential building volume was also above its year-ago mark due mainly to industrial and miscelaneous nonresidential building.

Real estate activity in Riverside and San Bernardino counties during June reflects the increasing activity in overall building volume. Deed recordings, subdivision activity, Board of Realtors Sales, and valuation of real estate loans all attained levels above those of June, 1966. There also appears to be a general downward trend in the number of foreclosures in the two-county area.

YOUR CONGRESS AND YOU!

REPORT from JERRY PETTIS Member of Congress 33rd DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

FIFTY YEARS OF FOREIGN AID

With all the talk of tax increases, the need for rebuilding our cities, a war that is ever more costly and a projected national deficit of thirty billion dollars, we might well take a look at our foreign aid program. Let's look at American foreign aid since 1917 when we really got into the international "give away" business. Fifty years of foreign aid and foreign loans--half a century of handouts, all around the world.

The sums of money we have loaned, given away, thrown away are so prodigious that they pass belief that a halt hasn't been called long since to this incredible global spending spree. Since 1917, the tax funds disbursed by U.S. official loan and foreign assistance programs total approximately two hundred and four billion dollars. I repear: $204 billion!

As of today, there are 14 major departments of the U.S. Government that act as principals or agents for the various programs that extend assistance to foreign countries.

This is the over-all picture. We have literally given 'till it's painful -- given 'till national bankruptcy is not as impossible a fact as it sounds. We have pulled more than half the nations of the world from impending ruin to prosperity to lives of good living.

And, in all these countries, we really haven't a true friend left. In fact, many of them are now our avowed enemies.

Because of the recent developments in the Near East, I am going to concentrate on the loans and grants we have made to the Arab nations that recently received such a thorough beating from little Israel. These nations, I might note, are now showing their true colors, openly allying themselves with Russia and the Communist world.

We first started providing assistance to these countries around 1945. Here are the figures from 1945 to 1966:

Iran has received one billion, seven hundred and fifty-two million dollars; Iraq has received one hundred and two million dollars; Jordan has received five hundred and seventy-three million dollars; Lebanon has received eighty-eight million dollars; Saudi Arabia has received two hundred and nine million dollars; Syria has received seventy-three million dollars; Egypt has received one billion, one hundred and thirty-three million dollars; Yemen has received a total of forty-two million dollars.

There is considerable interest in a proposal by one of my colleagues to seek an amendment to the foreign aid bill when it reaches the House floor to ban U.S. Military equipment or training assistance to any country collaborating with the Soviet Union or cooperating with the Viet Cong. Such an amendment would have prevented the Administration from supplying assistance to the Arab nations. I have introduced a bill calling for suspension of American aid to countries which have severed diplomatic relations with us.

Since the Soviet Union is involved in aiding these countries, I should point out that the technical advances in U.S. military equipment are exposed to Russian military experts. By giving the Arabs the same weapons which we are using in Vietnam, we enable Russian technicians to study this equipment and come up with the best defensive techniques against them in Vietnam. The Russians could send the Vietnamese Communists the proper weapons and technical data to destroy such U.S. weapons and kill our soldiers over there. In fact, the Pentagon reports today that the casualty ratio has dropped from 10 V.C. to one American to 3 V.C. to one American. Why? Better Soviet weapons.

Like my colleague, I am concerned about this as well as the fact that the U.S. trains foreign officers of a pro-communist nation such as Syria which we have every reason to believe passes along every vestige of intelligence gathered in U.S. training bases to Moscow, Peking, and Hanoi. This, too, has got to stop.

We have, in my opinion, let our hearts rule our heads for far too long. The result has been to build up our friends into enemies -- to leave us isolated and without real allies -- to raise our taxes enormously -- to make national bankruptcy far from an idle threat.

This is Congressman Jerry Pettis reporting from Washington.
